SAVED EIGHT YEARS FOR CAR. Raymond Burke of the Bronx in New York saved every penny possible for eight years for a new car. Not long after he got it, he lost control while driving his treasure along the Bronx River highway just before dawn. The car jumped the center strip, knocked a light pole down and skidded another 100 feet before turning over. Burke is sobbing against the pole at right.

New England Coast Ripped By Hurricane

Power Lines Felled In New York Area; Trains, Autos Snarled

NEW YORK (AP)—An early season hurricane roared up the Atlantic Coast today and aimed at populous New England.

By late morning the storm center had passed Long Island and the New York metropolitan area, leaving in its wake a swath of snarled transportation, felled power lines and much small damage.

Residents Urged To Flee

In Boston, the Weather Bureau urged residents to flee the coastal areas of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts to seek safety from expected furious tides and gales.

Coastal areas of Long Island had been evacuated earlier.

One drowning was reported at Dartmouth, Mass., as the winds and heavy rain lashed the popular summer resort areas along the south shore of Long Island, the New York City area and the southern New England coast.

Wind-downed power lines plunged an estimated 50,000 homes and offices in New York City into darkness, as well as many more thousands in Long Island, New Jersey and New England. Many telephones likewise were out.

Rail Traffic Cut

Operations of the Long Island Rail Road, largest commuter line in the world, were curtailed almost everywhere by trees across the tracks and lack of power.

Signal circuits were cut at many points on tracks throughout the island, thus adding to the difficulties. Engineers moved their trains with extreme caution, with warnings to watch carefully for track obstructions.

However, a spokesman said the bulk of the morning passenger traffic reached the city before the force of the storm really began to play havoc with operations about 9 a.m. EDT.

It was feared much damage had been done crops on Long Island, a big potato and truck garden center.

Power lines already were down in many Long Island communities as advance winds of 40 to 60 miles an hour swept the finger of land pointing 125 miles into the Atlantic.

In New York City some transportation was snarled and small boats cast adrift.

Deputies Act To Table Keystone of Western Europe Defense Policy

PARIS (AP)—The Western coalition against communism reeled today under France's crushing rejection of the European army plan, but Allied leaders rushed forward new rescue plans.

By a 319-264 vote the French National Assembly voted last night to postpone debate indefinitely on the six-nation European Defense Community Treaty, signed 21 months ago after long and troublesome negotiation to add German soldiers to Western military strength.

Clean-Cut Decision

The vote on the procedural motion was a clear-cut death blow to the plan which France herself originally proposed. It would have joined 12 German divisions in an internationally controlled force with French troops and those of Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

For three years EDC had been a keystone of Western defense policy. President Eisenhower termed the French vote a "serious setback" to the free world. Moscow's Communist party organ Pravda was jubilant.

There were sad and troubled French legislators today who said now no one could be sure whether West Germany could be kept oriented to the Allied side with a fighting force the North Atlantic command has been seeking for so long.

Could Ignore French

Only limited steps can be taken immediately unless the United States and Britain take a bold decision to go ahead without France.

Many of the same French deputies who voted down the plan to put German soldiers into a European army have declared they would vote also against any immediate rearming of West Germany, even if she were to pledge her troops to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Many deputies who supported the European army swore to vote against German rearmament without the controls EDC would have provided.

American diplomats and military leaders here did not take too seriously the unofficial talk heard in the United States that America and Britain might go ahead alone with the rearming of Germany if France tried to slow the pace again.

Seek Quick Alternative

But sources here were aware that American vexation already has been reflected in congressional curbs put both on the quantity of money voted for Europe and the manner in which it could be spent.

With the idea for a centrally controlled European army derailed, American, British, West German and French officials prepared to find a replacement as quickly as possible.

City-County Study

Three-Step Program Aimed At Traffic Survey Is Started

By CHARLES L. MARTIN

A decision to take three positive steps toward obtaining an engineering traffic survey for Marion was reached at a meeting of city and county officials and Chamber of Commerce members held at city hall last night.

As outlined by Councilman-at-large Robert G. Haldeman, the steps are:

1. OBTAIN A commitment from the state department of highways as to whether it will furnish an origin-and-destination study as the first part of the engineering survey. This commitment is to be sought by A. F. Busch, chairman of the joint traffic committee of the C. of C., at a meeting with a highway department official in Columbus today. His findings are to be reported to Mayor Harold F. Robinson tomorrow.

2. Mayor Robinson is to contact traffic engineering firms, tell them whether or not the origin-and-destination study will be furnished and ask them to submit estimate bids on the survey. Deadline for submission of these bids is to be Sept. 30.

3. City councilmen and the county commissioners are to meet Oct. 4 to decide whether or not they will put any additional funds to complete financing of the survey, and if so, in what proportion one to the other.

Thus, action taken by the councilmen and commissioners on Oct. 4 could determine the fate of the proposed survey. If additional money is needed and the city and county decide to put it up, the survey will become a reality. If the two groups turn it down, it may either be abandoned or some other method may be attempted to raise whatever funds are needed.

Decision of the group to make these moves came at the close of a one and one-half hour meeting during which R. N. Ricketts, planning engineer of the 6th Division, State Department of Highways, spoke on highway planning and the need for surveys.

IN HIS TALK, Ricketts pointed out that during the next eight years, a total of some one billion dollars will be allocated to improvement of some 6,200 miles of major thoroughfares in Ohio.

Of this amount, 500 million will come

Senate Committee Launches McCarthy Censure Hearing

Majority Says Both M'Carthy, Stevens Wrong

Detroit News Report Claims Verdict on Probe 'Straddles Issue'

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit News said today in a copyrighted story that the Republican majority on the committee which conducted the recent Army - McCarthy hearings has decided both Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and Army Secretary Stevens were "at fault."

Martin S. Hayden of the News' Washington bureau said the majority "straddles the question of whether McCrathy or Stevens was the more guilty."

While joining three Republican colleagues in the majority report, the News said Sen. Potter (R-Mich) issued a separate report which was much more critical of both Army Secretary Stevens and Sen. McCarthy.

The committee had three Democrats, who have prepared a minority report.

The Army accused McCarthy of using undue pressure in an attempt to gain an Army commission for an aide, G. David Schine. McCarthy counter-charged the Army had used Schine in an attempt to influence him to call off investigations into alleged communism within the Army.

Princess Warned

EDINBURGH, Scotland, (AP)—An unidentified man telephoned an Edinburgh newspaper today to "warn" Princess Margaret to stay away from a Shakespearean performance here tonight.

Police said they are taking normal security measures but they generally believed the man was a hoaxer.

Senator Ruled Out Of Order During First Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate committee wound up its first session inquiring into censure charges against Sen. McCarthy today with the chairman banging the Wisconsin senator into silence and thundering he was "out of order."

McCarthy and his attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, sought to raise the question of whether the committee's vice chairman, Sen. Edwin Johnson (D-Colo) was quoted, truthfully or not in a Denver Post story of last March. The newspaper said Johnson, in an interview, had declared:

"In my opinion, there is not a man among the Democratic leaders of Congress who does not loathe Joe McCarthy."

Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) ruled that Johnson's right to sit on the committee had not been challenged and that even if it was the committee itself couldn't act on it. He said the matter was irrelevant to the hearings and that McCarthy and Williams could get from Johnson himself any statement on whether the Post quotes were true or false.

Prior to the flareup, Johnson had read a statement denying that on March 12 or any other time he had said that he personally "loathed Senator Joseph McCarthy."

Anxious Dulles Set To Depart For Asia Talks

Takes Off Tonight for Manila in Search of Pacific Defense Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles, obviously concerned over Europe's new defense crisis, arranged to leave tonight for Manila to wind up negotiations for an eight-nation Southeast Asia defense alliance.

France's death blow to the long-cherished European army project cast gloom over his Far Eastern trip.

Before his departure, the secretary was expected to comment on the French assembly vote yesterday which scuttled the six-nation European Defense Community 27 months after it was conceived by a Frenchman mainly as a device to rearm Germany.

President Eisenhower, in a talk at Des Moines last night, termed the French action a "major setback" in the fight against world communism.

Top aides said Dulles believes collapse of the European army makes a united defense against communism in Southeast Asia even more important.

The eight-nation conference he is to attend was set up nearly a month ago as a climax to Dulles' campaign to prevent Red aggression in Indochina from spilling over into neighboring areas. A formal treaty which would seek to meet the Red military threat, as well as the menace of subversion, has been drafted in diplomatic exchanges. Reportedly, only minor points remain to be worked out at

Devotion to God Declared Key to Lasting Peace

World Church Council Enters Final Sessions, Seeks Christian Unity

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—A summing-up message from the World Council of Churches today proclaimed "to all who will listen" that only devotion to God can conquer the fears and "powers of evil" that plague the earth.

In its keystone message, the council's historic assembly declared that mankind's search for freedom, justice and peace is doomed to defeat unless men "turn from our ways to God's way."

"Nothing other than God can ever satisfy the heart of man," the message said. "Forgetting this,

Over 75,000 March in Giant Legion Parade

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Legion aimed its mammoth convention parade — its biggest ever or close to it — down historic Pennsylvania Avenue today.

When it would end was anybody's guess.

Right up to the first "forward march!" at 2 p.m., officials acknowledged they did not how how long the marchers would be stepping by. But, they predicted, it would be far into the night.

And they had plenty of advance statistics on the swirling mass of drum majorettes, legionnaires, ladies' auxiliary members and the funloving 40-and-8ers:

Some 75,000 to 80,000 parading for 8, maybe 12, hours to the music of about 350 bands. Along the route perhaps as many as 700,000

Brothers Held In Robbery of Cafe in Marion

One Confesses Taking $125 From Bill's Place on Cheney Ave.

BULLETIN

Police today arrested and charged with investigation of armed robbery two Marion brothers, one of whom, according to police, has admitted taking part in the holdups of Bill's Place this morning, and the Snyder Hotel and M. A. Tower last week.

According to police George Leonard Holt, 22, of 443 Milburn Ave. has admitted his part in the crimes and implicated his brother Noland, 19, of 465 Mound St.

Two armed gunmen early today robbed the operator of Bill's Place restaurant at 893 Cheney Ave. of $125 while holding three other persons at bay with a revolver.

Orville Faine of 495 S. Prospect St, the operator, reported the robbery to police at the police station at 12:46 a.m.

He said two men walked into the restaurant a few minutes earlier while only he, a waitress, Margaret McKeever, and two customers were in the restaurant.

One of the men walked up to him, pulled a gun and ordered

Adlai Attacks Administration Labor Record

CHICAGO (AP)—Rapping the Eisenhower administration for its labor-management record, Adlai E. Stevenson said yesterday a Republican campaign promise to revise the Taft-Hartley Act was not kept.

For the Eisenhower administration, he said, this has been a year of "futility, or worse," in meeting problems of labor-management relationship.

"Politics dropped to a new low in connection with the revising of the Taft-Hartley Act following the Republicans' great promises of a change, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said.

Addressing some 3,500 delegates at the 25th convention of the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Stevenson said:

"The Republican candidate in that campaign (Eisenhower) said what he called 'union-busting provisions' should be removed. They haven't been. Consider the series of events in which the White House produced some reasonable proposals, then withdrew them under such obvious pressure that labor's sole Cabinet representative (Martin Durkin) resigned in protest."

Stevenson extended his criticism to include the National Labor Relations Board, saying that Eisenhower had appointed three men who are representative of management and that one, he said, has described himself as a "union buster." Stevenson said they were interpreting the labor laws to de-

Deadline Nearing

3,600 in County Must Register—or Lose Vote

So you think you'll vote Nov. 2?

You may be in for a rude shock. You may be one of an estimated 3,600 adults in Marion city and county who could vote except for one detail—you haven't registered your name, address and signature with the Marion County Board of Elections.

—:—

THIS LITTLE DETAIL will cost you your vote—unless you drop in at the board office in the Courthouse and sign up.

The deadline is Sept. 22—three weeks away.

In the election Nov. 2, for the first time in the county's history, all voters in the city and county must be registered to be eligible to vote.

Board officials estimate that there are some 1,900 rural voters who are not now eligible to vote out would be if they registered. There are an estimated 1,700 city residents in the same boat.

The city registration now numbers 16,400. Registration in the rural precincts totals 6,022.

—:—

REGISTRATION was not required in some of the rural precincts until this year. But after the May primary election, the last 15 unregistered precincts were added to the registration list.

Now all voters in the county must be registered.

Those city and county residents who have previously registered and have voted at least once in the last two years are still eligible to vote if they have not changed their place of residence.

All others must register or transfer their address, elections officials point out.

Others who must register are those who have changed their names through marriage or other reasons, and new voters—those who will become 21 years of age

Winter Schedule Will Be Resumed By Marion Stores

Marion stores will revert to their winter schedule of hours beginning Wednesday.

They will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. every day except Friday, when they will remain open as usual until 9 p.m.

The summer schedule of hours, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., was voted by the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce to be effective only during June, July and August.

Stores also will be open all day Wednesday instead of closing during the afternoon.

Want President To Campaign

Leaders of GOP Grab Ike's Political Coattails

By JACK BELL

CINCINNATI (AP) — Republican party leaders grabbed President Eisenhower's political coattails firmly today in an effort to translate the I-like-Ike appeal of 1952 into congressional victories at the polls in November.

If an apparent majority of members attending the GOP National Committee workshop sessions here have their way, the Eisenhower personality may be pumped into nearly every critical campaign area in the country by on-the-spot and television appearances and by radio appeals.

Says Ike To Be Active

Rep. Richard Simpson of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, told a news conference yesterday Eisenhower is going to be more active in this nonpresidential-year battle for control of Congress than any president in the last 30 years.

While there was doubt Eisenhower would attempt to match the whistle-stopping activities of Democratic former President Truman in 1950, Simpson insisted that "before this campaign is over, by way of personal appearance, television and radio, the President will have done more to influence the election than any president has done in the last 30 years."

Hope for Vigorous Help

"Beyond any question," Simpson said, "as the President considers the picture, his actions between now and the election will reflect the realization that he must have a Republican-controlled House and Senate."

The general reaction among National Committee members was one of hope that Eisenhower would put on the kind of vigorous, personal campaign that Simpson outlined.

Simpson said Eisenhower can be expected to make an appearance in Kentucky.

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois,

'But Security Fight Will Go On'

President Calls French Action 'Serious Setback'

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower last night called the French Parliament's scuttling of the European army project "a serious setback." But he declared the United States never will quit the fight for free world security against any Communist threat.

"We have our setbacks, we are disappointed. But we must not be discouraged," the President said emphatically in a speech at the Iowa State Fair in Des Moines.

Eisenhower learned of the French Assembly's rejection of the European Defense Community plan for a six-nation army as he and Secretary of State Dulles were in conference on another matter in Washington yesterday.

The President then flew from Washington to Des Moines, where state fair officials estimated a crowd of about 25,000 persons heard him speak off the cuff.

Eisenhower spoke of EDC as "a device whereby the free world could establish, without indulging in the traditional fights among themselves in Western Europe, security from any threat from without."

Then, with former President Hoover on the speaker's stand behind him, he said:

"This proposal was established to allow Germany — Western Germany — to enter into defensive alliances without any danger whatsoever that it would be in a position to start a war or, indeed, to engage in any kind of aggression.

U.S. Reappraising Policy, Dulles Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States will reappraise its foreign policies in the light of the French move killing the European Army. He called for a prompt meeting of the NATO council to work out a new philosophy.

McCarthy

In the 2½ hour session before the recess until tomorrow, the Senate group did little more than lay the groundwork for its hearings

Read Correspondence

Much of the time was taken up with reading into the record correspondence related to a charge that McCarthy was contemptuous of a Senate subcommittee on elections and privileges of the Senate Rules Committee

That subcommittee looked into McCarthy's financial affairs in 1952 but never got him before it as a witness as to his transactions although it made several requests for his appearance

This first charge for the new hearings is labelled "Incidents of contempt of the Senate or a senatorial committee "

Edward Bennett Williams McCarthy's attorney, moved for dismissal of this charge shortly after the special six-member Senate committee opened hearings

Williams contended the charge was 'legally insufficient," but Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) told him the committee did not agree with him

McCarthy himself was permitted to read a statement charging that the senators seeking to censure him are 'affected by ulterior, political considerations '

His statement declared also that there is an "unholy alliance" in this country which argues that "vigorous anti-communism is more dangerous than communism "

Watkins let McCarthy read it, but told him "most of it is not relevant and material to the issues as we understand them "

The chairman commented too that McCarthy's statement was unsworn and was "not testimony "

McCarthy thanking Watkins read his statement in a firm clear voice

McCarthy handed out copies of his statement to reporters before the hearing began

"I would be untruthful," the statement said "if I agreed that my accusers were not affected by ulterior political considerations

"I believe that my accusers either entertain such motives themselves or are unwitting victims of powerful pressure groups in the country who are best characterized as opponents of a vigorous fight against communism "

As this Senate committee began its inquiry another prepared to make public tomorrow its findings on McCarthy s row with Army officials — subject of 36 days of hearings earlier this year

The new investigation was ordered by the Senate to look into 46 specific charges aimed at McCarthy by three other senators and to explore a censure resolution offered by Sen Flanders (R-Vt).

May Recall Senate

A committee of four Republicans and three Democrats headed by Sen Watkins (R-Utah) will conduct the probe Afterwards Senate leaders are expected to call that body into special session to act on the committee s report

The new hearings Watkins announced late yesterday after three hours of closed conferences will start by taking up the first of five categories of charges the group has singled out from among the 46 for initial study

Columbia St. Ditch Repair Work Started

Dredging and grading of the Columbia St. open ditch to help prevent formation of stagnant pools of sewage and offensive odors started today

Excavating of the ditch is being done by Gaster and Couts, excavating contractors of 395 Quarry St. Total cost of the project is expected to be less than $1,000, Mayor Harold F Robinson said.

Humps in the ditch are to be removed to provide a faster flow of sewage emptying into the ditch from the Columbia St. storm water sewer

This is the second phase of a clean-up of the sewer designed to eliminate disagreeable odors which Oakland Heights residents have long complained of

First part of the project was the repair and remodeling of an interceptor type catch basin near the end of the sewer tile This interceptor was originally designed to divert all the sewage into a sanitary sewer line except after a heavy rain when discharge from the sewer reached a certain level At those times much of the sewage was to be discharged into the open ditch

A mechanical valve in the interceptor had failed to function and during the past few years and all of the sewage in the tile was discharged into the ditch until the repairs were made

Mayor Robinson said that in addition to the grading of the ditch a stone fill will be made at the end of the sewer tile to prevent a wash out and the formation of a new stagnant pool

The work on the ditch should be completed in a few days, he said.

The 1,000-word message counted the cardinal document of the 17-day world Christian gathering came as the assembly moved toward its final sessions today

It declared that God in Jesus Christ, is ' the hope of the world "

And it said that "only at the cross of Christ' can men find the answer to the "fear and distrust which at present divide our world "

"It is there that Christians must pray daily for their enemies " the message said "It is there that we must seek deliverance from self-righteousness, impatience and fear

"And those who know that Christ is risen should have the courage to expect new power to break through every human barrier "

The message affirmed the determination of the council s 163 denominations in 48 nations to seek greater unity to strengthen their faith It said

"We enter now upon a second stage To stay together is not enough We must go forward As we learn more of our unity in Christ, it becomes the more intolerable that we should be divided "

Flag-Stop Service Authorized On Many Lake Central Flights

Lake Central Airlines yesterday was authorized by the Civil Aeronautics Board to operate much of its midwest system on a flag-stop basis It would mean stopping at cities only when there are passenger or cargo to be discharged or taken aboard.

This new authority will afford Lake Central the most complete degree of operational flexibility yet given to a local service airline by the government agency R B Stewart, head of the airline reported

Allows Direct Flights

Lake Central s non-stop authorization will allow the airline to operate direct flights between Columbus and Youngstown O , Indianapolis and Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Dayton, Dayton and Columbus and Indianapolis and South Bend on all flights in excess of one round trip daily Lake Central will also be allowed to fly non-stop between Indianapolis and Grand Rapids, overflying Kokomo South Bend and Kalamazoo provided they serve South Bend with at least four flights daily Another conditions in the CAB order is that Lake Central is not to operate a shuttle service between Indianapolis and Cincinnati Indianapolis and Dayton and Dayton and Columbus Such a service would be in direct competition with the trunk airlines

The 'no revenue" overflight authority granted Lake Central by the CAB will mean that the airline can overfly certain cities when there are no persons or property destined to or from those cities Included in this new authorization are routes between Chicago and Indianapolis Columbus and Pittsburgh Chicago and Dayton and Chicago and Columbus On each of the above segments Lake Central must make at least one landing at a scheduled city between the origination and destination of the flight

2 Stops Required

Routes between Chicago and Cincinnati, and Chicago and Cleveland will require two stops even though the 'no revenue' overflight is applicable Three stops will be required on Lake Central s Chicago to Pittsburgh segment

It is estimated by Lake Central officials that the CAB s order will enable the airline to save some $36 000 annually thus reducing government subsidy while at the same time substantially increasing passenger service Time savings of from 12 to 15 minutes per overflown city will also result on each scheduled flight

In making the announcement Stewart said "Lake Central will now be able to realistically schedule flights that will offer the maximum in passenger convenience "

Traffic

from a bond issue approved by Ohio voters and the remaining 500 million from federal matching funds and predicted increased revenue from the new one-cent higher gasoline tax and the axle-mile tax on trucks

Ricketts said that any city hoping to get any part of this money for local improvement must act quickly

This is because highway planning is at least two years ahead of actual construction The highway planning program is set up once every two years to cover a two-year period, he said In addition another two years may be used before construction actually begins Thus, after an improvement plan is submited to a three man highway construction council a total of four or more years may elapse before any construction is begun

PLANS FOR LOCAL improvement projects submitted after December this year would not be included in the planning program until 1956 with the result there could be no construction until 1957 or 1958

Cities hoping to be included in this planning must first get an engineering survey and submit it to the state director of highways Cities without such plans stand little chance of inclusion in any of the proposed improvements Ricketts said

These surveys take six months to a year to complete The first part of the survey is a study of the origin of moving traffic and its destination

Cost to the city of any construction projects recommended by the survey would be five per cent of the total, with the state and federal governments providing the remaining money However cost of the right-of-way for such improvements would be paid 25 per cent by the city, 25 per cent by the state and 50 per cent by the federal government

After the survey is completed the city must find a way of raising its share of the cost An agreement is made with the state concerning its share of the cost

This is done only after the survey is accepted by the state but once accepted the program of improvements cannot be changed, Ricketts said.

THESE SURVEYS cost from $5,000 to $25 000 depending on the problems to be solved and the size of the city Much of this cost may be applied to the cost of construction of the first project recommended in the survey and this essentially amounts to giving it back to the city, Ricketts added

In answer to a question by Carl Knirk, Ricketts guessed that the origin-and-destination study would cost no more than five per cent of the total survey cost

Harold Fralich, Sixth Ward councilman called attention to the fact that Ricketts said some 12 larger Ohio municipalities already have completed such surveys which recommended projects would require more money than the state will have available for highways in the next 10 years He asked if this meant that other cities, such as Marion would get no improvements, even if they submitted surveys

Ricketts replied that it does not

He indicated the state is holding up appropriations for projects until all the requests are in and a priority schedule can be arranged If no other cities ask for projects—through master traffic surveys—then the funds will go to the dozen or so which have already completed plans for highway improvements

That is the reason for urgency in getting started with traffic surveys, he said The state can't wait too long because of pressure from cities anxious to launch their improvement work

Hugh E Webster, secretary of the C of C, then brought up the subject of cost of the survey again He said that such a survey cost Niles some $20 000, Zanesville $13 000 and Newark $15 000

Busch spoke up and said that according to year-old estimate bids obtained from a Columbus and a Pennsylvania traffic engineering firm the cost to Marion would be from $20 000 to $22 000 unless the state furnishes the origin-and-destination study in which case the overall cost would be lower

Fralich asked City Solicitor George Piccentino whether or not the city could use gasoline tax funds to pay for the survey Piccentino said yes and in answer to a question on practicability of the plan told Fralich use of this money for a traffic survey would mean diverting it from some other use.

IN ANSWER TO another question by Fralich on the amount still needed to reach a goal of $20 000 to pay for the survey, Webster reported that some $3 426 has been raised by public solicitation The City also put up $6 000 and the county commissioners $2 000 making a total of some $11 500 raised to date and some $8 500 still needed

Fralich then asked John Dowler of the C of C traffic committee suggested the city and county provide the money still needed

Dowler said this was the plan He went on to say that with it legally possible to use gasoline tax money for the survey, he felt the money could be diverted from the other projects by the city and county

Fralich and Haldeman both said it was time for the city and county to decide exactly where they stand on the survey and either put up any additional money needed or openly reject the survey.

Haldeman added that the success of the project would depend on adequate leadership by city and county officials He then proceeded to outline his three-ppoint plan of action

In other comments Richard E Lister councilman at-large, complimented the Chamber of Commerce and its committees on the work it has done toward obtaining the survey to date

Boys Set Up Fair To Help 'Dimes Drive'

A miniature fair with games of skill and refreshment stands, has been set up by a group of four boys on N Greenwood St, with all money raised to be donated to the emergency March of Dimes polio drive

Albert Peacock with Dick Stout Steven Cranes and Brian Highland originated the idea and opened their fair for business Monday afternoon The boys ages range from 8 to 12

Located in the back yard at the Neldon Peacock home 170 N. Greenwood St fair amusements include dart games, a ring toss game and other events, with prizes being awarded to the winners Prizes include comic books and dishes and trinkets which the neighbor children and mothers have donated

For refreshments pop corn and soft drink stands have been set up

Between 25 and 30 persons not only children but adults as well attended the fair yesterday and about $2 was realized during the afternoon

The boys expect to continue the fair today and again Wednesday afternoon

An Appeal

By George Sokolsky

Honorable Harold E. Stassen
Official Almoner, U.S.A.
Washington, D. C.
Dear Harold:

It is a long time since we have seen each other. In former days, when your hopes were high that you would guide this nation, I must admit that I thought it might be best for our friend, Bob Taft, to take over because he would clarify the position of our party by making it a distinctively conservative element in American life.

SOKOLSKY

MOST AMERICANS are basically conservative and required a political vehicle to express their views. This, of course, is lacking today and that is why there is so much intellectual confusion. Bob would have been good for the United States; unfortunately he passed away and there is no advantage in deifying him. Dead gods are not of more value than a totem pole.

But this letter is not a polemic on deities. Rather it is an appeal for money. You are giving so much away in so many countries for so many reasons, that I would like to get some of it.

Perhaps the law says that you are permitted only to give money to foreigners; well, my grandparents on both sides were foreigners. Maybe that would help you to stretch a point.

You see, I am an independent merchant who sells the spoken and written word. I might be regarded as a very handsomely paid person, earning more than Andrew Carnegie dreamed possibly when he emerged into the shekels.

HOWEVER, I HAVE no tricks at my disposal. I am paid by check which means that every cent is accounted for. I can stash no cash in a shoebox under the bed, except a few dollars for safety should an atom bomb fall on New York when I am on my farm.

If I happen to be in New York at the time, it will, of course, make no difference, as everything will go, including my collection of jade buckles which survived many centuries of civil war.

Each year I make out my income tax, with some technical assistance, and after I pay it, my earnings shrivel to reality. As an independent merchant, I have office and traveling expenses which a kindly government acknowledges as proper business expenditures and which it permits me to deduct from gross earnings.

SO THE GROSS is a phantasmagoria. It is a momentary arithmetical thrill. When from the so-called net, the federal and state taxes are deducted, the final net is not so pretty. One can manage, but the distance between the gross and the net is considerably.

Now in the days of the New Deal and the Fair Deal, the Internal Revenue Bureau always sent nice, young men to go over my income tax statements line for line and word for word.

Like all good citizens, I do not recognize that there might be a difference of opinion. Whenever I was called upon to pay a nominal sum, which was probably added to my tax to prove that I had had a visitation, I used to say that when the Republicans got in, not only would taxes be reduced but the method of collection would be less punitive.

I had great faith in the Republican Party. Alas, recently a nice, young man from the Internal Revenue Bureau came along and he disallowed what the Democrats let me deduct. I suppose that might be called Democratic liberalism.

SO THAT BRINGS me to the reason for this letter. You hand money to the French, the Pakistani, to Nehru in India and Haile Selassie in Ethiopia. How about slipping me some of the American taxpayers' money to help pay my revised tax bills?

Mind you, I do not want a loan; It would be dishonest to call it that. What I need is a grant, something you take but never pay back. And I guarantee that if you hand me a moiety out of the billions you just got from Congress, I will never doublecross our good friend Foster Dulles at a conference, because nobody will ask me to a conference.

Perhaps my appeal is in vain as I am only an American citizen who chooses to live in the United States.

As Ever Yours,
George E. Sokolsky

'At Liberty'

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

"Where have you been keeping yourself?" my friends have been asking lately. "Haven't seen or heard from you in ages. You hiding from somebody?"

HAL BOYLE

This burns me up. Hiding? Not exactly. I've just been appearing weekly on a summer replacement radio show.

Maybe that is a form of hiding. They say that the two most anonymous jobs in the entertainment world are: (1) acting as a stand-in target for a professional knife thrower while his wife is away having a baby, and (2) appearing on a summer fill-in radio or TV show.

WELL, ANYBODY KNOW a knife thrower about to become a father? I'm now, as we say in the trade, "at liberty." Some nasty old sponsor bought our time for another show, and off the air we went. How deeply this will cripple the National Broadcasting Co.'s network only time will tell. But so far NBC hasn't even developed a limp.

It wasn't a bad little show. It was one of those four - member news quiz panel programs.

You know how they select the panels? Well, they pick (1) a pretty, witty, charming girl, (2) a smart clever girl, (3) an anchor man who is good at wisecracks and (4) the "uh-uh" man.

The "uh-uh" man plays a vital role. He is the needed area of ignorance. If he ever gets a right answer, it is by accident. His duty is simple and stern. He must know so little that any member of the audience can turn to his wife and say, "Listen to him, honey. I thought you always said I was the dumbest guy in the world."

I AM NOT GOING INTO the reasons why I was picked for the panel. But at the end of the first show the engineer said admiringly, Boyle, your last 'uh-uh' was worthy of a Barrymore."

The program got off to a good start. "Variety," the Bible of the entertainment field, gave it a fine pat on the back. All the letters the network received—including the 27 I wrote in longhand myself—were highly favorable.

In fact we thought we might last as long as "Uncle Tom's Cabin" until last week, when we were told:

"This is the last one, kids. Sorry. You're terrific, great, wonderful. But you're only sustaining, and a sponsor wants this time for another show. Maybe we can try again at a later date—maybe next summer."

Well, if it was to be the last performance, I decided it should be our best. I did my part. I managed to get in 43 "uh-uh" a new record for a half-hour panel quiz show.

—:—

WHEN WE WERE OFF the air, I leaned back expectantly. What would happen now? Everybody knows the show-must-go-on tradition. What about the show-has-to-go off tradition?

Frankly, I thought the door would open and Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, head of RCA would enter followed by a battalion of NBC page boys carrying champaigne and caviar sandwiches.

Then, wiping away his tears, Sarnoff would lift his foaming glass high and say brokenly:

"To a great quiz panel! You have raised radio to new heights . . . brought fresh cheer to America in her hour of stress . . . written an immortal chapter in the history of the industry . . . and you shall be back, I promise you, if I have to go out and find a sponsor myself."

—:—

AND I HAD MY REPLY all ready:

"Uh...uh...Don't take it so hard, Dave. It's...uh...uh...all in the luck of the game. Won't you join us in singing 'Auld Lang Syne'0"

But the door didn't open. We panelists looked at each other and said tentative, "well...been nice. Be seeing you." The engineer said "so long."

That was all. So brief a parting. I felt oddly lonely as I walked alone down the hall. I passed two teen-age girls who had been in the studio audience a few moments before, and one said: "Who's he?"

Boys To Dance in Show

THE BROSHAR BROTHERS, Dave and Steve, will be among entertainers who will appear at a special benefit show Thursday night at the Palace Theater to officially introduce to Marion a new Jimmy Rawlins Dance Studio. The boys, ages 11 and 12, will perform many of the numbers they have done on the Rawlins television shows in Columbus. Admission to the event will be a can of food or boxed cereal which will be collected by the Junior Service Guild and distributed through the welfare department.

6 Men Fined In City Court

Three Plead Guilty To Breaking Bottles

Six men were fined a total of $120 when they pleaded guilty to minor law violations in Marion Municipal Court Monday.

Three of the six were accused of breaking beer bottles on the street and were charged with disorderly conduct. They were Robert E. Smith, 18, of 191 Latourette St., Joseph R. Rutledge, 18, of 258 Waterloo St. and R. C. Cottrell, 20, of 672 Silver St. Each was fined $25 and costs and the fine and costs for Smith was suspended.

Fined $20 and costs on an intoxication and disorderly conduct charge was Charles McClain, 45, of Wellsville, a charge of panhandling and intoxication brought a $15 and costs fine against William Baker, 56, of Green Camp.

Charged with train riding, E. C. Davis, 34, of Cassaville, Pa., was fined $10 and costs.

Talks Self Into Jail

OKANOGAN, Wash. (UP)—Harry Jensen Ambos, 59, went to jail because he wanted to talk about old times.

"Felt kind of sentimental about a stretch I did in the county jail back in '14," he told Sheriff Gordon Jones.

Jones promptly locked him up. The friendly visitory didn't know the sheriff's office had held a warrant for his arrest on a second degree burglary charge since 1952.

Travel Films Sound Call Of the Road for Convicts

SALT LAKE CITY (UP) — Explorer John M. Goddard has begun to think that some of his travel films may arouse a bit too much wanderlust in certain quarters.

A year ago, Goddard, a Utahan, was showing a film called "Kayaks Down the Nile" at Utah State Prison when suddenly sirens sounded, bells clanged and the lights came up. It was announced that two inmates had escaped.

Goddard was showing another film about Central America at the prison recently and last year's hubbub was repeated. Two more prisoners had escaped.

Animals Fight Back

ALBANY — (UP)—Animals have been fighting back recently in New York.

A housewife in the Cooperstown area was protecting her chicken flock when she was bitten by a fox.

A policewoman here was bitten by an opposum she had rescued from a pack of dogs.

Two teen-age girls in Broome County reported fox bites. This resulted in revival of the county's fox-trapping program, abandoned since 1952. A $1,500 appropriation was authorized for the campaign.

HOME MARKET
Korean war veterans are expected to swell the demand for new homes soon. More than two million already have been returned to civilian life and 60,000 to 80,000 more are being mustered out of service each month. Up to last July 30, only about 20,000 of them had used their GI loans to buy houses.

Traffic Cases In City Court

Eleven drivers were fined a total of $265 when they pleaded guilty to various traffic charges in Marion Municipal Court Monday.

Kenneth Carpenter, 19, of Ashley was given the stiffest penalty of the day on a hit-skip driving charge. He was fined $100 and costs and his driver's license was suspended for three years. He was also given a suspended fine of $15 and costs on a second charge of having fictitious license plates on his car.

The remaining 10 drivers were each fined $15 and costs. The drivers and the charges were:

Speeding: M. P. Saunders, 28, of Detroit; R. E. Black, 33, of 236 Silver St.; and S. E. Kelly, 30, of 136 N. Seffner Ave.

Crossing over a yellow line: Tlarcher McCoy, 21, of Detroit, fine and costs suspended; and C. J. Stump, 25, of Upper Sandusky.

Stop sign violation: Harriet Alexake of 131 McWilliams Ct., fine and costs suspended, and E. J. Hoffman, 45, of Sandusky.

Failure to yield the right of way: J. E. Boggs, 35, of 114 Latourette St., and W. I. Hough, 18, of near Marion.

Reckless driving J. N. Monahan, 21, of near Marion, fine and costs suspended.

District Traffic Cases

Two traffic arrests outside Marion County were made Monday by state highway patrolmen from Marion. Robert Wakefield, 32, of Dayton was fined $25 and costs by Mount Gilead Mayor Emery Murphy for speeding and Ernest Macomber, 28, of Erie, Pa., was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Murphy for passing on the yellow line.

The elevation of Michigan ranges from 573 feet above sea level at Lake Erie to 2,023 feet above sea level in the Porcupine Mountains of the Upper Peninsula.

Driver Fined After Mishap in Morrow

Rannalls B. Winters, 36, of Springfield was arrested by state highway patrolmen from the Marion post at 8:10 p.m. Monday on U. S. Route 42, one and seven-tenths miles north of Mount Gilead in Morrow County as the result of a two-car crash. The mishap was the only accident reported outside Marion County by the Marion patrolmen.

The southbound Winters car was attempting to pass another car, patrolmen said. An approaching car driven by Richard N. Ghruer, 18, of West Salem swerved into a ditch on the right side of the highway attempting to avoid an accident, but the Ghruer and Winters cars collided and both were lightly damaged.

Winters was charged with passing without assured clear distance and was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Emery Murphy at Mount Gilead.

Teams Picked To Compete for Allison Trophy

4 Two-Man Crews Set For Feature Race in National Air Show

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Air Force today named four pilot-radar observer teams to compete in the Allison Trophy event at the National Aircraft Show here Sept 4-6

The Allison event is scheduled for Sunday, Sept 5 at the James M Cox Municipal Airport at nearby Vandalia, site of the big air show

Two of the teams will represent the Air Training Command, and two the Air Defense Command A third team from each command will stand by to compete should any of the principal aircraft experience difficulty on takeoff

The winner will be the team which reaches an altitude of 10,000 feet fastest The aircraft will take off at two minute intervals and make the speed climb The mission will start in front of the spectator stands and will include a simulated intercept mission similar to that which would be performed by Air Force aircraft in the event of an air attack

Special devices have been arranged to time the climb of the competing teams Upon completion of the speed climb each aircraft will complete a pass at a bomber which will be circling overhead at 5,000 feet

The competing teams will be flying Northrop F-89 Scorpions, two place interceptors, and will carry the equivalent of the plane s normal firepower

Ex-Marine Says Mark of 'Pachuco' Notes Time in Jail

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police here said a former Marine told them the so - called "Pachuco" tattoo simply may mean a serviceman once spent time in the brig

Officers said the ex-Marine came to police headquarters to tell how he got the tiny blue cross etched between the thumb and forefinger of his left hand The man's name was not disclosed, and he was not held

Military and civilian police have identified the tattoo as a mark of the "Pachuco," termed a hoodlum society dedicated to violence It originated in the Los Angeles area

The ex-Marine said he received the tattoo while in the brig at San Diego, Calif in 1951 He said he was told then that the brand was initiation for any who served time

This report followed announcement yesterday that two more airmen, suspected of 'Pachuco" membership, were discovered at nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base Although the tiny tattoo was found on their hands, they denied membership

RHODES RIPS LAUSCHE

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—James A Rhodes, Republican candidate for governor, yesterday charged Democratic Gov Frank J. Lausche with showing "apathy" towards Ohio's youth Rhodes said the governor led people to believe that the youth building at the Ohio State Fair would be finished this year The building is scheduled for completion in 1955 Rhodes said young fair exhibitors are sleeping in "cattle barns, trucks and open fields" The governor was not available for comment.

NAVY'S 'FLYING LST'. One hundred and three Marines group in front of the Navy s new whale-like seaplane, which is designed to open its huge nose and disgorge men or machines directly on a beach in amphibious warfare This preliminary test of the "flying LST" was made at a floating dock in San Diego bay. The Navy says the plane—the R3Y-2 later will put men directly ashore on sandy beaches.

Neither Boom Nor Bust Predicted

Economic Front To Be Quiet This Fall

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Economists will take a back seat in the next two months in the discussion of the nation s economy Politicians views on the state of business will cop the headlines

The predictions of the economists and business executives won't be nearly as exciting And this is doubly so because just now there is an unusual degree of agreement among them It's hard to find many who view with alarm It's equally hard to find many who predict strong upturn in September and October

The majority believes the changes will be largely seasonal

The quiet summer, without any startling drops and without any signs of a strong pickup starts business into the fall season with conditions fairly well in hand but nothing in the immediate future promising much more than a nudge —in the view of most economists and business executives who are talking

Intentories Down $2 Billion

Demand for goods stays good but unexciting This demand, coupled with production cutbacks, has enabled manufacturers to bring their inventories down to a level more than two billion dollars below a year ago Some think the cuts have about run their course now

Labor unrest causes some concern for the course of business this fall A rash of strikes has spread here and there in industry Settlements have mostly boosted production costs at a time when businessmen have been trying hard to hold them down and keep from losing customers by hiking prices

Employment holds pretty steady The labor department reports that the filing of new claims for jobless pay has dropped to the lowest level of the year

Auto Change-Overs Started

But in at least one industry the next month or so may be rugged Auto model change-overs are likely to idle one-fourth of the auto workers in Michigan in the next two months that state's employment security commission believes

Auto sales dropped in July after a spurt in June and sales to dealers in the first seven months of the year ran 11 per cent below those in the same period of 1953.

Against this rather glum background however, are 1 The sales records of the two leading auto makers, which went against the trend, and 2 The general view that when the new models start rolling from the production lines in November and December, a new and better sales day will dawn

Steel makers have mostly given up their earlier hopes that September would see a marked recovery from their summer slump Some now set the date for October, when they think the auto makers will have to start buying again for their new models

Military orders are beginning to flow in increased volume as the government gives business a nudge

Mergers Under Study

But Washington also hands out a few shivers One is the report that some of the many mergers which have recently made the most interesting business news are getting a close look from the justice department

Stock market jitters also worry businessmen Last week s hesitancy in the 11-month old bull market has many wondering if the time for the bears to have at least a short inning at bat is near at hand

And in the financial marts they note a couple of strange things Bank loans to business aren't rising as they should at this time of year But in the face of this lack of demand, interest rates are showing a tendency to firm, instead of easing further

Some investment banking syndicates have just learned that investors want higher yields than the underwriters had bet on

It all seems to add up to a state of balance in business just now, with all eyes on the politicians

Skunk Makes Fatal Mistake, Visits Garage

LYONS, Kan (AP)—An unfortunate skunk made the mistake yesterday of wandering into Mrs Paul Dring s garage

Mrs Dring and a neighbor Mrs J M Hoss, grabbed a garden hose and attacked before the skunk had a chance to go into action

The animal retreated into an adjacent garage whose owner not wanting to get personally involved called policeman John Bailey Officer Bailey likewise decided he was not the man to tackle a drenched and presumably hostile skunk in an enclosed place

Mrs Hoss recalled that when she was a girl on the farm there was a saying that if one could grab a skunk by the tail and get all four feet off the ground fast enough the skunk couldn t use its scent artillery

No one wanted to try it, so Mrs Hoss did She succeeded

Holding the outmaneuvered skunk at arm's length she instructed Bailey to do his duty A bullet through the skunk's head ended the episode scentlessly.

Wynn To Oppose Grim in First of New York Series

Indians in Position To Oust Champs Before Labor Day

NEW YORK (AP)—For the first time since 1948 when Clevelands' Indians last won an American League flag, they are in a good position to knock the New York Yankees out of the race before Labor Day.

A Cleveland sweep of the three-game series which opens tonight with Early Wynn (18-9) going against the Yanks' Bob Grim (17-5), would leave the world champs 7½ games back with only 22 to play.

Even if Casey Stengel's men win one of the three, their only hope would be to sweep the double-header in Cleveland Sept. 12 and win 15 out of 20 other remaining contests while the Indians slumped to less than .500 percentage ball.

Yesterday's 5-4 victory for the Tribe in Boston was another come-from-behind affair and the 28th triumph for Cleveland out of 38 games decided by a one-run margin. All the Indians' runs were scored in the seventh—three of them on a homer by Hank Majeski.

With nine won out of 11 on the current road trip, Cleveland's victory total of 94 games has been exceeded only twice in the club's history—in 1920 when 98 victories brought the Indians their first pennant and six years ago when 97 won the second Cleveland flag.

There seems to be a general impression that the Indians have made a habit of getting nudged out of first place by the Yankees in the final month. Actually, it has happened only once since the end of World War II, and that was in 1951.

That year, when the Tribe had 24 games left, as it does today, the Yanks were in first place by a game. The Indians moved into a one-game lead with only 10 games left, but it was not a true lead, inasmuch as the Yanks had played four less games and lost one less. Then came a two-game Cleveland-New York series the Tribe lost 5-1 and 2-1, and the Yanks went on to cop the pennant by five games.

Certainly a sign that this may be the year for the Tribe is found in the season record at Fenway Park where yesterday's win over the Red Sox gave the Indians 11 victories and two ties. No one could remember when any other American League team ever manhandled the Bostonians that way in their own small backyard.

Majeski's game - winning blow was hit off Ellis Kinder, who relieved starter Willard Nixon. Prior to the homer, the Indians had scored two runs in a rally that included singles by Larry Doby and Vic Wertz, a walk and a double by Jim Hegan. There were two on and one out when Hank, who entered the game at second base after pinch hitting for Hal Naragon in the fifth, clubbed Kinder's first pitch.

Hal Newhouser, who gave two hits in 2 1-3 innings of relief, earned the victory, his sixth against two losses. Six of the 11 Red Sox hits came off Ray Narleski, the starter, but they added up to only two runs. Singles by Billy Goodman and Harry Agganis, with two walks between, produced a first-inning run, and another came in the third when Sam White doubled after Sam Mele and Grady Hatton singled.

Reliefer Dave Hoskins loaded the bases in the fourth on singles by Ted Williams and Agganis and a walk to Mele. Bob Hooper replaced Hoskins and Hatton slapped a single to right to drive home two runs and give the Red Sox a 4-0 lead.

Black Feather Archery Club Expands

ONE OF THE NEWEST SPORTS clubs in the Marion area is the Black Feather Bowmen. The archery club is nearly two years old.

LOWER: Don Inskeep (kneeling) pulls arrows from a target while Chuck Baker watches Frank Louck mark a scorecard.

Local Group Two Years Old; Bowmen Shoot At Camp Owens

Marion's archery club, the Black Feather Bowmen, has continually progressed since its beginning nearly two years ago and is growing bigger day by day.

Begun here in November, 1952, the local club started with 11 adult members and has grown to a membership of 36 men. Now with its own archery range at Camp Owens, where members shoot the year around, the local club is welcoming new members.

The local club is all set to expand further. It has a prospective game reserve of 100 acres which will be used by members to hunt small game. The club also is going to set up a target range for anyone interested in target archery, especially women.

Paul Leakey, formerly with the Akroga Bowmen at Akron, is presently the top shooter in the local archery club. He finished fourth in the state in free style shooting this year.

Other upcoming archers are Chuck Baker, Frank Louck, Dr. R. E. Eicher and Phil Duckworth, all of Marion, and Alton Roach of Cardington.

Main purpose of the local club is to teach youngsters the proper way to shoot a bow, E. J. Leadenham, secretary-treasurer, said.

Instruction thus far has been mainly to Boy Scouts. Club members have given talks and instruction to Scouts and have built a standing archery range for the Scouts at Camp Owens for earning of their merit badges.

Leadenham and Frank Louck, club president, gave lectures every week at Scout camp this summer, showing them how to shoot correctly and giving exhibitions of shooting.

Leadenham estimated that the local club has shot during 50 weeks out of each year in its two years here. He explained the archers shoot in all kinds of weather, adding that one day archers fired in nine-degree temperature.

The local range is to be approved by the national association in September, Leadenham said. That means the range will have national approval for every field meet here and the local club will be eligible to receive awards from the national group for various feats. Almost all local archers are members of the national group and Ohio Archers.

The local archery club, first known as the Marion Archers Club, got its start here in November, 1952, when two men began its organization.

They were Leadenham and Ed Sisty of Cleveland, formerly of Marion. Some 11 persons attended the first meeting.

Both Leadenham and Sisty were veteran archers. Sisty was associated with an archery club in New York while Leadenham taught archery to wounded veterans in Wisconsin.

The club's first range was at Municipal Airport where the first outdoor match for the local club championship was held. At first a target archery club, the club later affiliated with the National Field Archery Association, a hunting club.

Reds Down Phils for 5 Wins in Row

CINCINNATI (AP) — Within two games of that elusive .500 mark, the Cincinnati Redlegs have, for them, at least, a substantial winning streak going.

The Reds won their fifth straight last night, defeating the Philadelphia Phils, 5-1. In doing so, they added to a different kind of streak for the Phils, who now have lost eight in a row.

The Reds got good pitching from little Jackie Collum, making his first start of the season. But as usual, it took a big gun—this time Jim Greengrass—to assure the victory. Greengrass smashed his 27th homer of the season in a big sixth inning in which the Reds got five runs, three of them on the home run.

Collum stranded 12 Phillies while scattering eight hits, three of them doubles. And thrice he loaded the bases but was able to hold the opposition scoreless. It was his seventh victory against two defeats.

Aside from Greengrass' clout, Collum's major help came from Johnny Temple, who got three straight singles, and Roy McMillan, who stopped a Philadelphia threat in the second inning with a sensational fielding play. With the bases loaded and two out, Roy raced back of second to grab a grounder by Curt Simmons which had caromed off Collum's leg. The throw to first caught Curt by a whisker.

The Reds scored first in the second inning. Ted Kluszewski, Greengrass and Johnny Temple singled to load the bases. Simmons got Wally Post on a foul-out but then walked Andy Seminick, forcing in a run.

The Phils tied it in the sixth on a walk and a single and Willie Jones' sacrifice fly. But the Reds came back in their half with the four big ones.

Gus Bell started the rally with a double. Ted Kluszewski got on when Jones bobbled his grounder. Greengrass hit his homer over the ribgt-field screen to account for three runs. Temple followed with a single and scored on a double by Seminick.

Moon and Grim Mentioned As Best Rookies in Majors

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It doesn't look as though the members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. will be able to steam up an argument even among themselves when they sit down to vote for the major leagues two outstanding rookies of the current season. This is unusual for the boys like to argue.

Unless all signs fail, the balloting will produce an almost unanimous agreement that Wally Moon, the slugging young outfield sensation of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Bob Grim, the part-time bartender who has racked up 17 victories for the Yankees, are the cream of an exceptionally fine crop of freshmen.

The only American Leaguer who might give Grim a small rassle for the honor appears to be Jim Finigan, the crack young third baseman whom the Philadelphia Athletics obtained from the Yankees in their big winter trade. Finigan promises to be a solid .300 hitter and is a slick fielder, but his play with the bedraggled A's scarcely has been as eye-catching as that of Grim in keeping the Yanks in the pennant race.

Moon, the phenom who smote a home run his first time up in the majors and who had a good chance of leading all National League batters in total hits, has no real rival in sight. It has been some time such a phenomenal clouter showed up in either league. He's a deer in the field too.

One of the most interesting features about the emergence of Grim and Moon as outright stars is that neither was even on the parent club's roster when he reported down South the past spring. Moon still was the property of the Cards' Rochester farm club, while Grim after a two-year hitch with the Marines, was ticketed to report to Binghamton of the Eastern League when he showed up at the Yankees' tryout camp in February.

Salem and Shelby Win Loop Contests

West Salem and Shelby were winners in North Central Ohio Baseball League games Sunday.

West Salem bounced Nova, 14-3, while Shelby trimmed Ashland, 11-1.

M. Osborn set down Nova on five hits. His mates banged out 15 hits off Nova hurling.

Ford hurled Shelby to its win over Ashland on a five-hitter. Two runs in the first clinched the victory but Shelby added two in the third, six in the fourth and one in the sixth.

DERAILMENT COSTS $50,000

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The derailment yesterday of 21 loaded freight cars here caused $50,000 damages to the Pennsylvania line, railroad officials said. W. G. Dorwart, superintendent of the eastern division of the line, said both disrupted tracks were expected to open for traffic today. No one was injured.

6 Marion Dogs To Compete in Bucyrus Trials

Six Marion County coon dogs are entered in the 27th annual National Leafy Oak Coondog Field Trial scheduled Sunday and Labor Day at Seccaium Park near Bucyrus.

Harley Johnson and Delbert Saunders of Prospect have entered "Mississippi Tiger," "Bake," "Jingles," "Billy The Kid," and "Little Bill", while Mrs. Lucille Dowler of the same community will have "Little Boy Blue" in the trial.

The six county entries were among the 410 dogs placed in 41 heats at the drawing Wednesday for the two-day event, most famous in the country, formerly held at Kenton.

Heats will get underway both days at 7 a.m. A total of 41 heats — 26 opening day — will wind up the first round on Sept. 6. Egitht semi-final heats, five consolation and two final will climax the event.

Some 10,000 spectators are expected for the three nights and two days of activity at Seccaium Park.

Ross Coaches Army Baseball Club in Japan

Pfc. Max Ross, former catcher for the Marion Red Sox Class D baseball club and now stationed with the U. S. Army in Japan, guided his 8th Cavalry Regiment team to the Hokkaido Sports Conference Baseball crown recently.

Max Ross

Coach Ross took his Mustangs, who posted a 28-11 record for the season, to the VVI Corps Baseball Tournament at Camp Crawford. His team nosed out the 7th Cavalry Regiment, which sported a 25-13 mark, for the championship.

Ross, recognized as one of the most clever managers in the league, was called into service on March 17, 1953. Following basic training at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md., he left for Camp Crawford at Hokkaido.

Serving with the 8th Cavalry Regiment, 1st Cavalry Division, Ross is athletic director at Camp Crawford in addition to his coaching duties.

A graduate of State Teachers College in Pennsylvania where he majored in physical education and played football and baseball, Ross was with the Marion Red Sox here for two seasons. Prior to being called into the Army he was employed at Marion Industries as a department foreman.

Antonelli Wins 20th; Braves Defeat Brooks

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

No matter what happens now, the New York Giants still will be in first place when they collide head on with the Brooklyn Dodgers in their three-game showdown series starting Friday in the Polo Grounds.

The margin might be as small as two percentage points. It could be as much as 2½ games. But big or small it will be the Giants on top with the Dodgers trying to climb. Any small boy with experience on a greased pole can tell you that going up is the hardest.

The Dodgers, who had been burning up the West like a prairie fire, ran afoul of an old Brooklyn killer from several seasons back last night and dropped a 7-5 decision in Milwaukee.

The Giants whipped St. Louis 4-1 with Johnny Antonelli becoming the first National League pitcher to win 20 games. New York is now 2½ games ahead of Brooklyn.

Bobby Thomson, the No. 1 public enemy in Brooklyn since his dramatic homer in the 1951 playoffs between the Giants and Dodgers, showed up in a Milwaukee uniform and smashed a three-run homer in the seventh inning for the winning runs.

The Braves went into the seventh trailing 5-4. After one out Bill Bruton beat out an infield single. A sacrifice put him on second. Joe Adcock walked and Thomson drilled one of Carl Erskin's offerings over the left field fence, 400 feet away.

There were some home runs earlier too. Duke Snider hit his 34th with the bases empty in the first. Jack Dittmer gave the Braves a brief 4-3 lead with a two-on drive in the fourth.

Antonelli, the first Giant lefthander to win 20 since Carl Hubbell did it 17 years ago, pitched one of his best games. He held the Cards to four singles, walked three and struck out five. The Giants didn't pull ahead until the seventh when a pair of singles wrapped around a fumble produced the tiebreaking run.

Dusty Rhodes drove home the other pair in the ninth with a bases-loaded single.

The Cleveland Indians, who put their 4½-game American League lead on the line against New York in a three-game series starting in Yankee Stadium tonight, wound up the Boston end of their season yesterday with their 11th victory in 11 starts against the Red Sox at Fenway Park.

They came from four runs behind to nip the Sox 5-4 with a five-run rally in the seventh. Baltimore won its third straight from Washington 3-1 and Cincinnati made it five in a row with a 5-1 triumph over Philadelphia in the only other major league action.

Aging Heinie Majeski, slashed a three-run homer during the Cleveland uprising. Five of Cleveland's 10 pitchers saw action, starting with rookie Ray Narleski and ending with Mike Garcia.

Bob Turley of the Orioles had a no-hitter working until Jim Busby bunted safely in the sixth, but he had to strike out pinch hitter Maury McDermott with the bases loaded in the ninth to preserve his 11th triumph.

Another one of those three-run homers that figured prominently in yesterday's games came in the Cincinnati victory over the Phils. Jim Greengrass hit this one during a four-run Redleg rally in the sixth.

Norman (Red) Strader, former Yankee football coach, is scouting 14 games for the San Francisco 49ers this season. He is also in the construction business in Berkeley, Calif.

Goodrich Stays In First Place In Golf League

B. F. Goodrich successfully protected its lead in the Marion Industrial Golf League yesterday.

The Goodrich squad defeated Marion Industries, 7-1, while the American Legion club trimmed Marion Engineer Depot No. 2, 6-2.

Monday's action left Goodrich atop the league standings with 43½ points and the Legion team in the runner-up spot with 42.

In other action yesterday, Marion Engineer Depot No. 1 downed Marion Engineer Depot No. 3, 5-3; Marion Power Shovel and Gulf Refining tied, 4-4, and Erie Railroad beat Tecumseh, 5½-2½.

Following B. F. Goodrich and American Legion Post 162 in the standings are Marion Engineer Depot No. 1, 37½; Marion Industries, 32½; Marion Engineer Depot No. 2, 31½; Tecumseh, 30½; Marion Power Shovel, 28; Erie Railroad, 26; Marion Engineer Depot No. 3, 33½; and Gulf Refining, 23.

Low net scores yesterday included a 29 by R. May, 31 by B. Maynard and 32's by S. Sharrock, G. Roberts, E. Anderson and W. Calyk.

Officers for next year were elected last night. They are Jerry Wynn, president; Warren McIntire, vice president; Ed Snyder, secretary; and Gene Roberts, treasurer.

Church Crown Won by Trinity

Trinity has won the 1954 Church League championship. A 6-1 victory over St. Mary last night clinched the title for the winners.

In the other Church League games last night at Garfield Park, second - place Epworth trimmed Greenwood, 8-3.

The final standings show Trinity in first place with a 9-3 mark and Epworth, 8-4, in the runner - up spot. Then come Church of the Brethren and St. Mary, both with 6-6 marks, and Greenwood, 2-10.

Bill Trimmer hurled Trinity to the Church League title on a four-hitter. He was nicked for the lone enemy run in the sixth while his mates supported him with a run in the second, two in the third, two in the fifth and one in the seventh. The Trinity batters rocked Steve Norris of St. Mary for 10 safeties. Two of those were a homer and triple by Dick Gherman. Trimmer, Milan Gorby and Carl Loreno each banged out two hits.

Epworth gained its win over Greenwood behind the four-hit pitching of Alan Kreider. Epworth got two in its runs of the first and then scored four times in the second on five hits to clinch the win. Mel Donaugh, on the hill for Greenwood, was touched for 10 hits. Don Poorman netted two hits, Richie Wolfe homered, and Alan Kreider banged out a pair of hits for the winners.

Ed Sullivan in Monochrome

My color set is in the city. I'm in the country and I didn't think the idea of gazing at Ed Sullivan in four colors sufficiently stimulating to travel 50 miles to see. (As a matter of fact, I've already seen Sullivan in color. Pinkish chap.)

J. CROSBY

I settled for Sullivan in black and white, which is what about 30,000,000 other Americans had to do. It was quite an illuminating experience. The fact is if you give a producer a brand-new color studio — which this was broadcast from — and slip him a couple of color cameras, he is bound to think in terms of color.

The Sullivan color show was an extravaganza by TV standards. One set had a background of three fountains spouting what I suppose was colored water. The central feature of another set was a real, working merry-go-round, horses and all, and that, I bet, made a real splash on color on the few thousand color sets in existence. On a black and white set, though, the carousel was extravagantly monochrome and, while impressive, it wasn't specially interesting after the first minute or so.

I IMAGINE THERE will be quite a lot of this to come. This fall, both NBC and CBS are coming up with spectacular color extravaganzas. NBC is prepared to toss $300,000 away on each such program. And who will be looking? Forty-odd million Americans all on black and white sets.

Yet, a producer with all that shiny new equipment and all that lovely money will hardly be able to resist the temptation to aim his program at the handful of people with color sets. I'll bet anything we're in for a season full of statuesque blondes in marvelously colorful clothes against dazzlingly-hued scenery, all of which will look terribly black on your set. And not very interesting, either.

THE BEST THING on the Sullivan show the other night was John Raitt singing his old showstopper, "Soliloquy" from "Carousel" — and that wouldn't be improved by color or anything else.

Color is a marvelous thing when the people get it. But when are they going to get it? The lush predictions of color set productions made when the color system was approved by the FCC have not anywhere near materialized. The set manufacturers are entangled in uncertainties as to what size tube will ultimately be used — and whose tube.

And until that little matter is resolved, color sets won't be produced in any real quantities, and prices will stay substantially ahead of the average family pocketbook. Meanwhile, the Messrs. Leland Hayward and Max Liebman and the other producers engaged to dazzle us with color spectaculars will be lavishing their genius on an empty house.

MEANWHILE, the proponents of color, chief of which are RCA and NBC, are still beating the drums for color as the greatest thing for the national economy since they threw a railroad across the country. In a recent issue of "Variety," Robert W. Sarnoff, vice president of NBC, declared:

"We are developing a color broadcast service that we expect to sweep with sage-fire speed across America. . . . Color television itself will be a decisive factor in spurring the American economy to record production plateaus over the next five years. We believe the impact of selling via color television will be greater than any in merchandising history."

Them's tall words and yet there is reason to suppose that is not an overstatment. But when's this sage fire going to start? Anyone got a match?

Galion School Board To Receive Applications

GALION — Applications for the position of superintendent of buildings, grounds and equipment will be received by the Galion Board of Education at Senior High School. The position has been vacant since the recent retirement of O. J. Dewalt.

This action was taken at a meeting Wednesday the first to be held by the board with the new superintendent of schools, Dwight L. Musselman. At this time, the board approved a list of substitute teachers. These are: elementary, Mrs. Delmar Fisher, Mrs. Lamont Fogt, Mrs. Thelma Gottfried, Mrs Marjorie Miley, Mrs. Ruth Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Somerville, Mrs. Mabel Stump, Mrs. Alice Wisler after Jan. 1, 1955, and Mrs. Luella Braden; high school, Mrs. Bertha Elliker, Mrs. Mary Catherine Long and Richard Elliker; junior high school, Mrs. Maralee Frost; elementary and junior high, Mrs. Laura Shumaker.

Bomb Cache Overlooked

TOKYO (AP)—Bomb disposal specialists have cleaned up 30 bomb storage caves which were overlooked in the general confusion of 1945, the Air Force said yesterday.

The explosives were found at Misawa Air Base on northern Honshu. In all, 290 live bombs were discovered in 30 well-hidden underground nests.

ACROBATIC NECESSITY. It was tough for 4-year-old Stephen Mayeux, oldest of three children to watch his brother and sister run and play at Houston, Tex. Stephen's legs have been crippled since he was stricken by polio. Eight months ago Stephen started trying to learn to walk on his hands Ernie Mayeux, the father, said Stephen's last measure had a record distance of 15 feet.

Bucyrus Theater To Entertain State Unit in September

BUCYRUS — Members of the Bucyrus Little Theater are completing plans for the second annual conference of the Ohio Community Theater Association to be held in the Little Theater here on Sunday, Sept. 12.

The state-wide organization was organized at the Players' Club in Columbus early in 1953. Delegates are expected to be present from 24 amateur community theater organizations in the state. Representatives from non-member amateur groups, producing two or more plays a year, are invited to attend the sessions.

The conference will include various discussion periods, guest speakers and a business session during the all-day parley. Special entertainment will be given by some of the member OCTA groups in the evening.

Would-Be Taxi Driver Falsifies License Form

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Joseph W. Dunn, 38, of Flint, didn't get his taxicab operator's license yesterday. Today he faces possible perjury charges.

Dunn's application filed with Flint police stated he had never been arested for a major crime. He admitted "one speeding ticket."

Police said a routine check with the FBI disclosed Dunn had been arested 18 times on charges ranging from kidnaping to burglary.

School Year at Nevada Slated To Begin Sept. 7

NEVADA — The Nevada School will open Tuesday morning, Sept. 7, at 8 50 a.m. The first session will be for one-half day, dismissing in time for lunch at home.

The cafeteria will open on Wednesday. The bus schedules will be approximately the same as last year.

St. Joseph's Opens Sept. 8 at Crestline

CRESTLINE — Following a high mass Wednesday morning, Sept. 8, classes will be resumed at St. Joseph's Parochial School here.

Two replacements have been made in the teaching staff and the staff of Sisters has been reduced from five to four by eliminating the Sister in charge of the housekeeping.

The Vincentian Sisters of Pittsburgh, Pa., have been returned to Crestline. Sister Mary Bartholomew, principal, will teach the seventh and eighth grades, succeeding Sister M. Clotilda. Sister Mary Colette will teach the fifth and sixth grades, the same as last year; Sister Mary Thomas will again teach third and fourth grades; and Sister Mary Aloysius, will replace Sister M. Augusta as the first and second grade teacher.

AREA BANKERS NAMED

Two area bankers were among those appointed to nine standing committees of the Ohio Bankers Association for 1954-55, according to the president of the organization, F. George Heidacher, vice president and cashier of the Central Trust Co., Cincinnati. On the agricultural committee are K. D. Kyle of the Richwood Banking Co. and Thomas A. Reber of the First Citizens National Bank in Upper Sandusky.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market slumped today with trading hitting a fast pace.

In the early afternoon, prices were down 1 to 3 points in many sections of the list.

Trading stepped up to a pace better than two million shares. Yesterday's total in a falling market was 1,950,000 shares.

Aircrafts were under selling pressure early in the session, and the steels soon joined them as selling targets. The railroads a little later took their place on the selling side.

All other major divisions of the market were lower but without running into any selling distress.

Among stocks down 1 to 3 points were Boeing, Bell Aircraft, General Dynamics, Republic Aviation, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Southern Railway, Katy Preferred, Seaboard Railroad, Kennecott Copper, Allied Chemical, du Pont, and Montgomery Ward. Also lower were American Telephone, Radio Corp., Westinghouse Electric, and New York Central.

Grain Quotations

CHICAGO (AP)—An easier tone prevailed in grains at the opening on the Board of Trade today. Dealings were rather slow.

Wheat started ¼ to ¾ lower, September $2.14½-2.14, corn ½ lower to ¼ higher, September $1.66¾-½, oats unchanged to ⅜ lower, and soybeans ¼ to 1½ lower, September $3.02¾-3.02.

WATCH YOUR SEAT

House paint is not recommended for porch or garden furniture, because house paint is purposely made to chalk gradually and thereby "wash" itself. If used on furniture, it may cause you to collect the pattern of the seat on your clothing. Exterior enamels or spar varnish are used on outdoor furniture.

1-A—CARDS OF THANKS

WEIST, MAC P.—We wish to express our sincere thanks to all who assisted in any way at the time of the death of our dear husband, father and brother.
Mrs. Mildred Weist,
Philip, James, John and Rosalie,
Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jones and Family.

WE WISH to sincerely thank the many friends, also Rev. Oleveiler, Dr. Merchant, nurses, and Schaffner-Denzer Funeral Home for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of Dr. Frederick A. Stengel.
Bertha Wilder.

1-B—IN MEMORIAMS

IN LOVING MEMORYof Donald Paul Pierce who passed away August 31st, 1945.
Remembrance is a golden chain,
Death tries to break, but all in vain;
To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
You shall never be forgotten,
Never shall your memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts will always linger,
Around the grave where you are laid.
Sadly missed by Mother,
Brothers, Sisters and Son.

High School Class of 1914 Holds Reunion

A reunion of the class of 1914 of Marion High School was held Saturday night in the Plantation Room at Hotel Harding with about 30 class members and guests present from throughout Ohio and also from Michigan, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois.

Harold Haldeman, now a resident of Cleveland, who was president of the class, presided as master of ceremonies. The invocation was spoken by Dale Gorman of Marion.

During the program, the class song was sung by the group, led by Mrs. Lucile Benedict Hepburn of Lisbon, O., who had written the words during her senior year in school. Accompanist was Mrs. Eliza Thomas Williams of Marion.

Following dinner, the evening was spent reminiscing the happenings of school days and with the class members telling what they have been doing in the 40 years since graduation.

During the evening, a member of the class, Ellsworth Bowen, called from his home in Torrance, Calif., to express his regrets of not being able to be present. Others responding to the reunion invitation by letter or telegram included Col. Rhu Taylor of San Francisco, Calif., Mrs. Irene Thurston Ward of Storrs, Conn., Mrs. Annabell Mouser Kollin of Euclid, O., Douglas Weeks of Austin, Teras, Mrs. Mildred Holverstott Green of Cleveland, Dr. Joyce I. Hartman of Shaker Heights, O., Mrs. Ruth Harmon McCleery of Kingsville, O., Mrs. Esther Nickles Gribbens of New Castle, Pa., Mrs. Clara Bahre Geer of Marysville, and Mrs. Marie Mittler Heinzelman of Detroit, Mich.

Plans were made for another reunion to be held in five years.

Present from Marion were Miss Hazel Hochstetter, Miss Geneva Terry, Miss Helen Atchinson, Mrs. Eliza Thomas Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Fremont Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grigsby, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stoll, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Gorman, Mr. and Mrs. James Gist, Mrs. Leonice Krouse Wren and Miss Etta Jacoby.

Attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haldeman of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Pickering of Willoughby, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robertson of Detroit, Mich., Vernon Furstenberger of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hoagland of Cincinnati, Mrs. Lucile Benedict Hepburn of Lisbon, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Black of Canton, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harriman of Pittsburgh, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. J. M. High of Kokomo, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Covault of Lorain, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beaty of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thomas of Russells Point, Mrs. Nan Britton of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Carrie McFadden Wilson of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sifritt of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Troy McClure of Prospect, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Allinger of Lakewood, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kilbury of Ashtabula, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Eccles of Grosse Point, Mich.

Sporting Goods Store Robbed With Own Gun

GLENDORA, Calif. (AP)—This thief didn't even bring his own pistol.

Miss Lucille Palmer, clerk in a sporting goods store, told police that a man in a soiled T-shirt asked her to show him a .45 caliber automatic. He checked it to see that it would load properly, inserted a clip of bullets, pointed it at Miss Palmer, and took $35 from the cash register.

He walked out without paying for the pistol, a $72.50 item.

'Overheated' Motorist Bangs Car With Ball Bat

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A policeman who spotted a motorist whamming away at his stalled car with a baseball bat in 98-degree heat got a simple explanation.

"It got overheated," said the driver. "I guess I got overheated, too."

All the auto's windows were broken in the onslaught.

"I've cooled off now," the motorist told Officer Lyle Fagan as he drove away.

VITAL INFORMATION

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — (UP)—Rhode Island Hospital officials say enough bricks are being used on the hospital's new main building to form a curbstone on both sides of a road from Prividence to Boston.

THEY'LL HELP SOLVE THE BRAINWASHING PROBLEM. Four brigadier generals, appointed as a committee to find ways of helping captured American servicemen withstand Communist brainwashing, pose at the Pentagon in Washington. Left to right: seated—Reginald H. Ridgley Jr., Marines; John H. Ives, Air Force, chairman; standing, Richard H. Carmicheal, Air Force; Herbert P. Powell, Army. They will establish a basis for a more detailed study to be made later by a combined civilian-military group.

Rio de Janeiro Site Selected for World Catholic Congress

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—The site here for the 36th Eucharistic Congress, expected to draw two million Roman Catholic pilgrims next July, doesn't yet exist.

It is still part of beautiful Guanabara Bay, around which Rio de Janeiro spreads.

Before next June municipal and church authorities hope to fill in more than 131,000 square yards of land in the bay, only a short distance from the heart of the city. Here the pilgrims will meet and pray before a gigantic altar of Brazilian wood.

The reclaimed area — ultimately to stretch for 1.2 miles along the shore — will eventually be a site for highways, parks and housing developments.

CAREY SCHOOLS OPEN

CAREY — The Carey exempted village schools will open Sept. 7 for the 1954-55 term. A faculty meeting has been called for 10 a.m. Students are to report for calsses at 1 p.m.

Musical Thief

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The thief who took a ukelele from the home of Walter W. Emerson Jr. also took a book.

The title of the book, Emerson said, is "How to Play the Harmonica."

Junior Fair Queen, King To Be Named In Wyandot County

UPPER SANDUSKY — Candidates for junior fair king and queen have been selected by the junior fair board from nominations by the youth organizations represented by the board.

The king and queen will be elected by secret ballot of junior exhibitors on Junior Fair Day, Wednesday, Sept. 15, at the Wyandot County Fair.

Candidates for queen are Phyllis Miller, Sarah Lou Miller, Eva Mae Heistand, Janet Hufford and Marilyn Koehler. Candidates for election as king are Kenneth McClain, James Steiger, Allen Ulrich, John Romig, and Rex Redding.

CHILDREN GIVE PROCEEDS

GALION — Seventeen neighborhood children who put on a show last week at the Ralph Workman home and raised $3.50 from the show and refreshments they sold, will donate this to the Galion chapter of the Red Cross. Parents and neighbors were in attendance. Ann Bosler and Nancy Workman were the directors and Gene Bosler acted as stage hand. The show, "The Little Red Caboose," was presented by Cindy Aplas, Kristy Earl, Linda Taylor, Janet Ulmer, Ellen Smart, Howdy Workman, Tommy Buck, Phil, David and Dicky Schieber, David Workman, Steve Fike, Billy Fauld, Mike Campbell, Nancy Workman, Gene and Ann Bosler.

Record Sales Predicted for Furs This Fall

CHICAGO — (UP) — Memo to husbands Everybody's ganging up this Fall on the side of the little woman who loves fur mink

Fur prices are the lowest in history the industry reports Uncle Sam has cut excise taxes The demand for mink is up 55 per cent And to catch the feminine eye, furriers are offering everything from Australian opossum to pink mink

A leading Chicago furrier says the bottom fell out of the business in 1953 In 1946 retail fur sales totalled $49 000 000 Sales in 1953 plummeted to $190 000 000

'But this year we're going to catch the American woman's eye with everything from mink collar and cuff sets at $15 to rose-hued sapphire mink stoles at $4,000," A L Meltzer predicted

The idea is to bring furs within the price range of every woman in the country 'So far it's worked" he said. Fur sales jumped 100 per cent in April, May and June of 1954 compared with the same period last year

The fur tax cut helped, but style and clever workmanship are helping even more, he said "American women want Parisian design bu. U S craftsmanship"

This year's furs feature slimness in line, casual flares dramatic collars and sleeves with capes, stoles and boleros taking the play

The most popular collars are the sailor, cape standaway and crush.

This year beaver will parade as a blond shorn down like a girl with a shingle bob

Muskrat can be disguised to look like mink or it's fine on its own in caramel, bisque or blue sapphire shades

Among the color novelties are mink shrug and mouton sweater-jackets in eight shades ranging from fire red to azure blue

In mink the demand is for dark shades which are up 20 per cent in price, Meltzer said But the prices of the rarer cerulean sapphire are down 25 per cent and royal pastel is down 20 per cent

The cattle egret a bird formerly found only in Africa and Asia suddenly appeared in South America in 1930 and was found in the United States in 1952 says the National Geographic Society.

If aircraft could fly continuously at 3 000 miles per hour at sea level they would heat up from air friction to about 1 690 degrees (F), enough to melt many metals.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ritter of near Upper Sandusky are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Shirley, to Bruce Rhoden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hager Rhoden of Upper Sandusky.

The young couple were united in marriage at Columbus, Ind., Saturday, Aug. 21. The new Mrs. Rhoden attended Upper Sandusky High School. Her husband is a Nevada High School graduate and is employed in the office of the Daybrook plant here. They will reside near Upper Sandusky.

A honeymoon in Washington, D. C., followed the marriage of Miss Joan Carol Stansbery, daughter of Mrs. Ronald Stansbery and the late Mr. Stansbery, and Jack Foltz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Foltz, Arlington.

Rev. W. A. Tabbert officiated for the double ring ceremony in the Evangelical United Brethren Church here at 3:30 p.m. Sunday. A half-hour of traditional wedding music preceded the ceremony with Miss Theora Disher at the organ and Mrs. Gene Dent of Cleveland, roommate of the bride when they attended Bowling Green State University, as the soloist. Given in marriage by her brother, Richard Stansbery, the bride was attired in a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over white satin. She carried an arrangement of white roses with a white Bible.

Mrs. Donald Halm and Mrs. Clair Altvater of Upper Sandusky and Mrs. Richard Snodgrass of Hamilton, were the bride's attendants. Lester Savidge, a close friend of the bridegroom served as best man. Ushers were Clair Altvater and Lewis Derringer. A reception in the church basement followed.

The new Mrs. Foltz was a graduate of Upper Sandusky High School and attended Bowling Green State University. She has taught in the Salem School near here the past two years. The bridegroom, a graduate of Mount Blanchard High School, served several years in the armed forces and is now engaged in farming. They will live near Findlay.

Carey

Rev. Melvin R. Frey, pastor of Somerset EUB Church in Toledo for the past seven years, has been assigned to Carey Memorial Church and gave his first sermon here Sunday. He succeeds the Rev. Samuel L. Shockey, who has retired from the ministry. Rev. and Mrs. Shockey have moved to the home they own in Findlay. Their son and daughter in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shockey, have been living there the past several weeks.

Plenty of Help at Hand When PA System Fails

CHICAGO (AP)—There were more than 3,000 electricians in the International Amphitheater yesterday when the electric public address system conked out.

Mayor Martin H. Kennelly was addressing the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers when suddenly his voice faded out. The mayor waited for 15 minutes while some electrical workers on duty, not convention delegates, made the necessary repairs.

ENTER AT STATE FAIR

BUCYRUS — The Mount Zion Grange, west of Bucyrus, will enter a young people's chorus at the Ohio State Fair Friday with Mrs. H. K. Pirnstill of Bucyrus as director. The Mount Zion chorus recently won a district contest at Salem in Wyandot County. Accompanist is Mrs. Velma Kissling, Bucyrus.

Tasty Apple Filaff Makes Good Use of Rice

Fluffy rice with diced apples and whipped cream combine to make a filling dessert that's ideal to serve after a light meal or at a bridge luncheon.

You'll find that, even though it takes some time to prepare, everyone will enjoy it so much it will be worth the extra work.

For this tasty apple filaff, use:

½ cup rice
Boiling water
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 No. 2 can (2½ cups) pineapple juice
4 tablespoons brown sugar
1 cup diced summer apples
1-3 cup choped walnut meats
⅛ teasoon salt
Few grains nutmeg.
1 cup whipping cream.
Add enough boiling water to rice to cover. Cover; let stand 10 minutes. Drain. Heat butter or margarine; add rice and stir until kernels are coated with butter or margarine. Add pineapple juice; cover; cook very slowly until rice is tender (about 50 minutes). Combine brown sugar, apples, walnut means, salt and nutmeg. Add to rice; stir until blended. Cool. Whip cream; fold in. Makes 6 servings.

Son's Illness Leads to Bonanza

Writer Turns Misfortune Into Fortune

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How to make a fortune out of misfortune in one remarkable lesson.

Our subject is Joseph Hayes, a bright, lean, 37-year-old writer from Indianapolis. He is well on his way to fame and fortune, and all because his son got sick.

Hayes had been earning a good living for 10 years. He would write anything—magazine articles, short stories, TV scrips. With his red-haired wife Marrijane, he wrote 20 plays for high schools and amateur theaters. One of them was based on "Mister Peepers." He even had one play on Broadway, "Leaf and Bough," with Charlton Heston. It flopped in a week.

Last winter, the Hayes,' red-haired son, 9-year-old Gregory, fell ill. He was in the hospital three times with pneumonia. The doctor despaired of his chances if he stayed in the cold climate.

SO THE HAYES family picked up their belongings and left for Florida. Hayes decided to use the time to write a book he had been thinking about. He turned it out in six weeks of intensive writing.

He wasn't happy about the result. As they were packing, his wife noted his glumness and said, "I won't be able to stand driving all the way to New York with you in that mood. You'd better let me read it."

She read the story, which concerns three escaped convicts who terrorize a family, and said, 'I think it's wonderful. If you don't mail it, I will." The author selected a title, "The Desperate Hours."

So off it went to Hayes' agent. By the time the family arrived back in New York, it had already been sold to Random House for publication. That weekend, Collier's bought it as a serial. The Reader's Digest Book Club and Literary Guild took it as a selection for their readers.

—:—

AND THAT ISN'T all. Hayes went to work on a play version of the story. It will go into rehearsals Dec. 15 with Hayes as coproducer.

Hollywood soon started clamoring for "The Desperate Hours." Virtually every studio in town and a flock of independents bid for it. Some were taken aback by the author's terms.

"I know a lot of them said, 'Who the heck does he think he is?'" Hayes remarked. "My terms were stiff. I wanted a percentage of the gross—right off the top. Most of the studios wouldn't go for it."

But producer-direcior William Wyler did. He met the provisions, including the services of Hayes as script writer. The author is here now to write his baby for the screen.

The pool will close on Labor Day, Sept. 6.

Dayton Man Hopes To Stay on Top of Flag Pole 8 Days

DETROIT (AP)—Richard "Dixie" Blandy of Dayton, Ohio, calmly shifted from one foot to another today atop a 50 foot flagpole at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

Blandy, 52, a former flagpole painter, climbed up on the pole yesterday. He stands on a small two feet square platform and says he will not come down for at least eight days. He was hired to publicize the state fair which opens Friday.

"I'll stay on top of the pole until my feet swell so badly I can't take it any more," Blandy says, "then I'll come down and go to a hospital for treatment."

In 1940, U.S. women with less than 5 year's schooling who were 45 to 49 years old had an average of 4.33 children, indicating they were almost doubling themselves in the population while college graduates had only 1.23 children, providing little more than half their numbers in the new generation.

EDC Swamped in French Political Cross-Currents

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an ABC on what President Eisenhower has just called a "major setback" in the fight against communism: the French refusal last night to join a single European army.

The Western Allies decided on a military alliance when, after the war, it became apparent the Communists were determined to take by force what they couldn't get otherwise. Big example was seizure of power in Czechoslovakia.

The Allies created NATO—North Atlantic Treaty Organization—under which they pledged to help one another in case of attack. Each member would keep its own army but there would be a general staff for planning.

NATO now has 14 members. Twelve signed the NATO agreement April 4, 1949: the United States, Britain, France, Italy, Canada, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Denmark, Iceland, Norway, Portugal, Greece and Turkey joined in February 1952.

The United States contributes one third of NATO's cost. The other members put up four fifths of the forces. This country has six American divisions with NATO in Europe.

West Germany was not included in NATO. There were obvious reasons. This country, Britain and France — still keeping occupation troops in Germany—have not restored her independence or what diplomats call sovereignty.

Lacking sovereignty, she can't rearm. So long as she is defenseless, the Russians have a soft spot for attack. The Russians have opposed not only NATO but rearming of Germany. The Allies faced a question:

How to let Germany rearm but in a way to prevent her becoming a menace to her neighbors someday. In June 1950 the Communists showed how far they were willing to go in aggression with their attack on South Korea.

Four months later, on Oct. 26, 1950, Rene Pleven, then French Premier, proposed a plan which in that early stage won approval of the French Parliament. It was the single European army idea, called EDC — the European Defense Community.

This is how it shaped up: six European countries—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands—would pool their armies in a single European army under a unified command of their own choosing.

Except for West Germany, all these EDC countries were already members of NATO. But whereas the other NATO allies would keep their individual armies, the EDC countries no longer would have national armies of their own.

This single European army—made up of troops from the six EDC countries—would be part of NATO's defense planning.

On May 27, 1952, the six EDC countries' foreign ministers signed an agreement to set it up. This did not by itself create EDC. It couldn't come into existence until the parliaments of all six countries approved.

Four Give Approval

Four of them—West Germany, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands — gave approval. The Italian Parliament didn't approve but was expected to when the French did. The French Parliament, rent with factions, balked.

Russia tried every trick to keep EDC from being born. Communists in the French Parliament, following the Russian line, fought EDC approval. French nationalists, who wanted France to keep her national army and not merge it in EDC, fought it too.

In addition, there was French fear of Germany rearmed under any circumstances, and fear, no matter how EDC was unified, that Germany would control it. Russia played on these French worries.

The United States and Britain looked upon EDC as essential for defense of Europe, making use of German manpower, and at the same time keeping Germany from becoming a menace as she might with her own national army.

Although France had proposed EDC four years ago and France agreed to set up EDC two years ago, no French premier chanced asking Parliament, with its hostile mood, to vote on it. The French would have felt safer tied into EDC with Germany if Britain would join EDC also. Britain wouldn't.

Puts Issue To Vote

At last the present French Premier and foreign minister, Pierre Mendes - France, decided to put EDC to a vote in Parliament. First he tried to get the other five EDC countries to agree to changes in the 1952 agreement which would have made EDC more a fiction than a reality.

He suggested, for instance, that EDC be on trial for eight years and that anyone of the six members could veto what the other five wanted to do. The other five turned him down.

No lover of EDC, Mendes-France asked Parliament to vote. It did, last night, against EDC. That wrecked it.

The elaborate decorations on the armor worn by knights of the Middle Ages grew out of the necessity for identifying the men behind their all-enveloping garb.

PRESIDENT SALUTES LEGION. President Eisenhower, a military man most of his life, snaps his hand forward in finishing a salute to fellow American Legionnaires at the end of his address to the Legion's 36th annual convention in Washington. Pre-School Teachers' Meeting Slated at Forest

FOREST — The Forest schools will open Tuesday, Sept. 7 at 8:45 a.m. and will be in session until 11:45 a.m. the first day, Supt. Frank M. Blackburn announced today. A pre-school teachers' meeting will be held Monday, Sept. 6, at 9 a.m. for both grade and high school teachers.

Lunch will be served daily starting Wednesday, Sept. 8. The price will be the same as last year. School will be dismissed at 3:30 p.m. each day. School will be closed Thursday and Friday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, for the Hardin County Fair. All first grade pupils must be six years of age prior to Jan. 15, 1955.

Several new teachers have been added to the staff. Joseph E. Beeson will teach mathematics. He has just completed two years service in the U. S. Army, and is a graduate of Taylor, Ind., University. Mrs. Jean March has been hried to teach English and Latin. Mrs. March is a graduate of Ohio Northern University and formerly taught in the Forest and Sycamore schools. Mrs. Florence Kellogg will teach fifth grade. Mrs. Kellogg attended Bowling Green State University and has had experience in the Bellefointaine schools. Mrs. Vera Blackburn has been hired to teach one section of the first grade. She attended Ohio Northern University and has taught in Union and Hardin Counties.

The following teachers, in addition to the new teachers, complete the staff: D. Ray Baum, principal and history; J. Clinton Pine, science, Indiana arts and math; Paul L. Gordon, English, social studies, assistant coach; Allen Willoughby, science, coach; Mrs. Jean Gordon, home economics; Gilbert W. Woodburn, vocational-agriculture; Ralph Balmer, vocal and instrumental music; C. A. Brooks seventh grade; Mrs. Lena Threlkeld, sixth; Miss Grace England, fourth; Mrs. Ruth E. Bair, third; Miss Verda Baker, third; Mrs. Paul Fortney, second; Mrs. Georgia Kellogg, second; and Miss Marcella Ickes, first.

School employees hired include Mrs. Ellen Musgrave, Miss Marjorie Hune as cooks; Clair Wetheril as custodian; Morris Burk, Herman Musgrave, Edward Betts, Clarence Dilley, Amel Frederick and Adrian Peart as bus drivers; Mrs. Stella Freed, librarian, and Mrs. Margaret Baum, school secretary.

Forest-Jackson Board of Education members are: Carl McKinley, president; Albert Oates, vice president; Helen Price, clerk; Joseph Shields, Dr. G. B. Van Atta, and John Rabberman.

Youth Program Registration Opens Sept. 8

Registrations for YMCA youth activities for the fall and winter seasons will be held next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 8-10, at the Youth Center in the basement of the YMCA.

Marvin Ludwig, youth secretary of the "Y," said that in order to avoid confusion and give everyone balanced schedule, parents of the children should come to the registration periods with the child.

If unable to come in person, the parent is asked to call the "Y" before next Saturday noon to arrange the schedule. The regular program begins Sept. 13.

Hours for registration of the various groups are:

Boys 8 and 9, Wednesday 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.; boys 10 and 11, Thursday 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.; junior high school boys 12 and older Wednesday 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.; junior high school girls, 12 and older, Thursday 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.; and girls 8 to 12, Friday, 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

No registrations will be taken before next Wednesday, Sept. 8. Registrations will be for gymnasium classes, swimming instructions, different YMCA clubs, square dance lessons, craft classes, and other organized youth activities of the "Y."

Hardin Youth Gets Award at State Fair

KENTON — Walter Baughman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baughman of Kenton, won second place honors for individual scoring on a 4-H beef judging team from Hardin County at the Ohio State Fair, it was announced today.

Walter was awarded a medal for individual placement and a trip to the international livestock show in November. The judging team placed second in the statewide meet. Other members of the team were Charles Bidwell and Howard Watkins.

Crawford Judging Team Wins 3rd Place in State

BUCYRUS—A Crawford County 4-H beef cattle judging team placed third among 27 teams in competition at the Ohio State Fair in Columbus. County Agriculture Agent Russell L. Miller reported here today. The team is composed of Judy Lust, 16, Mount Zion, Larry Hoffsis, 16, and Don Leonhardt, 17, both of Sulphur Springs, and Tom Clinger, 16, Chatfield.

In individual beef cattle judging, Hoffsis placed ninth. The general livestock judging team, composed of Julia and Mary Jo Guinther, Ruby Crissinger, all of Mount Zion, and Ted Hartwell, North Robinson, finished ninth.

MORROW ATTENDANCE DOWN

MOUNT GILEAD — Attendance at the Morrow County Fair was down slightly from last year according to Dwight McClarren, secretary. There was no night show this year on Saturday night, however, and admission was not charged after 3:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon. Total paid attendance this year was 11,119 compared to 12,381 last year. The attendance two years ago was 10,550 according to Earl Hershner, fair treasurer. Largest attendance by days was on Thursday when 3,544 paid to attend.

Divide Soil Board Joins Conservation Contests of Awards

BUCYRUS — The Divide Soil Conservation District Board, which has headquarters here, has entered the national soil conservation awards program sponsored by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., Akron, board chairman Lester T. Ross of Galion announced today.

Board members will compete for the national grand award for one board member and the top cooperating farmer, named by the board, for a one-week, expense-free trip to Goodyear's fabulous guest ranch at Litchfield Park, Ariz., in December, 1955.

Purpose of the contest is to stimulate development of strong local leadership in districts through the scoring of the yearly program, ecucational activities and conservation accomplishments developed by the governing body. The contest will run from last May 1 to April 30, 1955.

Board members are James Krauter, Lester Ross, Virgil Schieber, Luther Shafer and Ralph Worden.

Utility Firm Executives In Return to Classrooms

MOSCOW, Ida. (UP) — District managers and vice presidents of mighty western utility companies were merely students in a special course at the University of Idaho's summer session.

Thirty-three public utility executives attended classes six hours a day, five days a week, to complete "The Public Utilities Executives Course."

Dr. Donald Hart, dean of the College of Business Administration, said the course was requested by the utilities and was geared to help the executives make management policy decisions. He said it emphasized the "availability of facts and resource materials" for guidance in making such decisions.

McConnell was killed when his parachute failed to open after he abandoned his crashing Sabrejet during a routine test flight.

Bucyrian Selected For Highest Honor Presented by FFA

BUCYRUS — Gerald D. Hoover of near Bucyrus is one of 11 Future Farmer of America members in Ohio to be recommended for the organization's highest degree, the American Farmer award, it was announced here today.

Hoover, a 1952 graduate of Mount Zion High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford D. Hoover of Mount Zion. He will receive the degree at the 27th national convention of the FFA in Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 11-14. He will get a certificate, gold key and $50 check.

Hoover received his state farmers' degree in 1951 and was a member of the Mount Zion FFA livestock judging team, which placed second in the state. Dr. Clyde Hissong, state education director, said the national degree is based on the youth's record in farming, leadership and scholarship. It is limited to FFA members who have been out of high school at least one year and show evidence of becoming successful farmers.

Erection of Carey Garage Under Way

CAREY — The Huston Lumber Co. has started work on the garage and storage room that the village of Carey is having erected at the rear of Salyer's market.

The company's bid of $8,600 for the job was accepted by the village Council Aug. 16. The building will measure 27 by 68 feet and will be of concrete block and frame construction.

The work is to be completed within 120 days.

9 NEW POLIO CASES

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Nine new polio cases were reported here yesterday, setting a record for a single day. The Franklin County polio chapter said five victims were children, four were men.

State Hospital Escapee Held In Holdup Case

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — An armed band of 35 deputies and farmers yesterday captured an exhausted escapee from a state hospital who hid in a 40-acre cornfield near here. Police said the man was suspected of a $145 Columbus robbery.

The posse found James Estep, 22, of near Chillicothe, an hour after he leaped from his moving car and dashed into the cornfield. He had been chased by a sheriff's deputy's car following a robbery yesterday.

Officers said they found Estep, exhausted and unarmed, with $139 hidden in his watch pocket and socks. He was taken to the Franklin County Jail at Columbus.

He was discovered shortly after police ordered one of three planes aiding in the search to spray chemicals into the field to route him.

Police said Estep escaped about a month ago from Athens State Hospital where he had been sent for observation after his arrest in Ross County on a robbery charge.

Estep's car, which police said was the same model used in the Columbus gas station robbery, crashed into a ditch when he leaped from the car.

WORKSHOP SET WEDNESDAY

Plans have been completed for the Sunday School teachers' workshop Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the YMCA sponsored by the Child Evangelism Fellowship of Marion. A specialist in methods of teaching children, Mrs. D. E. Wisner, formerly of the Kansas City Bible College, will be the worker here for the study session for teachers, parents, and others interested in children.

Michigan State became the first land-grant institution to admit women when it opened its doors to the fair sex in 1870.

Michigan Acts To Cut Holiday Traffic Deaths

Governor Proclaims State of Emergency, Guard To Aid Patrol

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams has declared a state of emergency in Michigan over the long Labor Day weekend in an effort to reduce an anticipated high traffic death toll.

Williams signed an emergency declaration yesterday giving legal status to his previous act of calling out units of the Michigan National Guard to aid in patrolling state highways.

Michigan led the nation in highway deaths over the Fourth of July weekend with 33 fatalities.

During the emergency period, from noon Friday to noon Tuesday, Sept. 7, intensive air and ground patrols will cover state highways to seek out traffic violators.

Some 700 state National Guardsmen have been mobilized. They will draw full federal pay and allowances and will serve with local law enforcement agencies.

Citizens were called on "to exert extraordinary efforts" to obey traffic laws, all law enforcement agencies were told to "exercise special vigilance," press, radio and television were asked to publicize "the importance of care and caution," and Williams urged "that special prayers be offered in all places of worship for safe passage of loved ones during the period of heightened danger."

4 New Courses Being Offered At Green Camp

School will open at Green Camp on Tuesday, Sept. 7. Tuesday's session will be from 9 a.m. to noon.

Cafeteria will open Wednesday Sept. 8, with Mrs. Ruth Finch in charge. She will be assisted by Mrs. Ethel Johnson and Mrs. Lucretia Rosebrough. The cost of the lunches will be 25 cents.

Superintendent Norman C. Roettger announced that a teachers' meeting will be held Labor Day, at 2:30 p.m. in the home economics room of the high school building.

Several new courses have been added to the curriculum this year. These include shorthand, business arithmetic, economic geography and French.

Mr. Roettger will be in his office in the high school building on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 2 and 3, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Any student wishing to change their schedule or any new students engering the district since the close of school should contact Mr. Roettger on these dates.

Employes of Feed Mill To Attend Big Barbecue

Over 300 Marionites — McMillen Feed Mills employes and husbands or wives — will board a special train early Thursday morning, Sept. 16, to attend a giant barbecue and commemorative program in Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The occasion will mark the 20th anniversary of Central Soya Co., Inc. and McMillen Feed Mills, and the 75th birthday of Dale W. McMillen, the company's founder.

SPECIAL TRAINS will bring employes from Harrisburg, Pa., and from Gibson City, Ill., as well as from Marion.

Plans for the celebration were announced this week by Harold W. McMillen, chairman of the board. The day-long event is being sponsored by the company's 2,000 dealers, an equal number of employes, its officers, directors and executives, and the Ft. Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

Central Soya processes soybeans at three plants in Decatur, Ind., Marion, and Gibson City, Ill. McMillen Feed Mills manufacture concentrate and complete feeds at these plants and at two additional locations, in Harrisburg, Pa., and Memphis, Tenn.

A new six-million-dollar plant, under construction at Chattanooga, Tenn., and scheduled for getting into operation early in 1955, will combine soybean processing, feed manufacturing, and grain storage facilities.

—:—

THE CELEBRATION will mark milestones in both the career of Mr. McMillen and the history of Central Soya. Mr. McMillen has been recognized as a pioneer and leader in the field, and from a public standpoint for his contributions to parks, schools, churches and youth.

The commemorative program will be held in the Allen County War Memorial Coliseum and an informal barbecue will follow at McMillen Park.

DALE W. MCMILLEN
Founder of Central Soya Co.

The principal speaker will be Dr. Raymond Ross Paty of Knoxville, Tenn., director of the Tennessee Valley Authority. His subject will be "Agricultural Leadership."

The hosts and guests, who are expected to fill all 10,000 seats in the Coliseum, will also see the star of stage, screen, radio and television, Herb Shriner. Another feature will be the Purdue University Glee Club. Also scheduled to appear on the program are the color guard and drum and bugle corps of the Culver Academy.

Drive in Crawford In Progress for Area Mental Clinic

BUCYRUS — Letters have been sent to about 450 Crawford County residents and firms, seeking their support in the current drive for funds for the Tiffin Mental Health Clinic, Mrs. Ethel Smith, Bucyrus, secretary - treasurer of the Crawford County Mental Health Association, announced today.

The county's share in the campaign, which covers six counties, is $3,500. Operating on a budget of about $20,000 during its first year, the clinic personnel saw about 450 patients, referrals coming from family physicians, ministers and families of patients.

Others working on the fund drive in the county are the president of the association, Rev. Willis S. Webb, pastor of Bucyrus First Baptist Church, W. B. Davis of near Bucyrus, vice president, and Mrs. Joe McKinnon, E. H. Pickering, Carl Baker and Ralph Delk, directors. Earl Ross of near Bucyrus is serving on the finance committee for the North Central Mental Health Association.

Rev. Morgan Leaving To Resume His Studies

Rev. Fred D. Morgan of Green Camp, pastor of First Church of God in Marion the last seven years, preached his farewell sermon here Sunday night. He will leave to resume his ministerial training in a denominational school. His sermon theme was "God Is Love."

A surprise farewell party was given recently for Rev. and Mrs. Morgan and their sons at the home of Mrs. Rena Koch near Harpster. More than 60 from the congregation attended and devotions were by Rev. Robert Koch of Woodstock who is a former member of the Marion church. A "love offering" was presented the Morgans. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan and Mrs. Elwood Rhoden.

Guest ministers will fill the pulpit of the church on Sundays until a new pastor is chosen.

$13,200 Asked For Service in Sheppard Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland wants Bay Village to pay $13,200 for aid in investigating the Marilyn Sheppard murder case.

The suburb already has paid Cleveland $1,000 for police and laboratory work, and now it is getting a bill for an additional $12,200.

Major item on the bill was $11,487 for the 5,493 regular and overtime hours Cleveland police spent on the investigaton. Travel costs, hotel rooms, phone and incidental expenses totaled $947.

The Bay Village Council president, Gershom M. M. Barber, said the community already was "scraping the bottom of the barrel" financially, but that it would pay its obligation to Cleveland even on a time basis, if necessary.

Marilyn Sheppard was found bludgeoned to death in her bed early in the morning of last July 4. Her husband, osteopath Samuel H. Sheppard, is awaiting trial on a first degree murder charge, although he insists she was killed by an intruder.

The Essence of Politics

The state Democratic chairman, a fellow named Jake More, was murmuring the other day at the top of his voice that it was nonsense to call President Eisenhower's forthcoming visit to the Iowa state fair at Des Moines nonpolitical.

"Mr. Eisenhower can't go any place during an election year and call it nonpolitical," said Mr. More succinctly, hereby disposing of an Iowa State Fair Board statement that the President's visit would be nonpolitical.

Franklin Roosevelt was the all-time champion making nonpolitical appearances. He seemed to go out of his way to stir up his critics by claiming he could split himself in two and cease to be a politician by merely announcing he was something else. Usually, he announced he was an inspector. On several occasions during the war he gave his critics conniption fits by "inspecting" thousands of his fellow citizens without even the formality of letting it be known he had left Washington.

Mr. Roosevelt knew what every president finds out—that the office of the presidency is the essence of politics, since it is the most coveted prize under the two-party system and its occupant is the leader of a political party. Mr. Eisenhower knows this too. We hope he enjoys the Iowa State Fair.

Island Hopping

When the White House announced last February that the United States Seventh Fleet no longer was under orders to shield Communist China from Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, no one knew what the announcement signified. Its meaning was hidden.

With news coming out of Asia that Communist Chinese have been doing island-hopping in the direction of Formosa, the hidden meaning of the White House announcement is growing more important.

The first guarantee concerning Formosa was announced in 1950 by President Truman. He said the Seventh Fleet would prevent any attack on Formosa and that Chinese Nationalists, in turn, had been asked to cease all operations against the Chinese mainland.

If the White House announcement this year lifted the guarantee that the Seventh Fleet would prevent a Chinese Communist attack on Formosa, it must have lifted simultaneously the commitment to prevent a Chinese Nationalist attack on Communist China. It would appear that the Chinese Nationalists must have been released from their 1950 commitment to cease all operations against the mainland.

It is no further from Formosa to the mainland than it is from the mainland to Formosa. Perhaps not all the island-hopping that suggests the possibility of trouble between Chinese Communists and Chinese Nationalists is being done by Chinese Communists.

Windfall Profits

The theory back of the National Housing Act's sanction for builders who were given over-liberal mortgage arrangements was that more housing could be built with these greater inducements.

But the Senate Banking and Currency Committee probe into the arrangements has revealed that the windfall profits pocketed by promoters who inflated the value of building sites and exaggerating construction costs became so huge in some instances they cannot be condoned.

The question is not one of law. It is a question of morality. And it is a question of public ethics. When a citizen of the United States testifies that he was able to pocket five million dollars on an investment of only $20,000 in apartment house construction whose costs were guaranteed by the federal government, he is testifying in effect that he hold his fellow citizens in contempt. There is a limit to how much money any citizen can conscientiously take from his neighbors in a transaction that involves the common government.

It goes without saying that some citizens never would admit this—that they would gull the common government for every cent they could bleed out of it under any circumstances.

Northwest Passage Was There

Soon after early explorers had discovered the land mass now known as North America, they began to dream of some way to bypass it. Until the engineers came to the rescue with the Panama Canal, no way had been found. Voyagers had learned how to get around Cape Horn at the tip of South America, but it was too long a voyage, too full of hazards. What the voyagers hoped they might find was a northwest passage that would let ships filter through the mase of islands inside the Arctic Circle.

During August, two U. S. Navy icebreakers finally made a passage through McClure Strait, western entrance to the long-sought "Northwest Passage" that begins in Baffin Bay at the eastern end. The feat is of interest only to geographers, because it long since has been known that even in midsummer there would be no open water in the passage itself.

It never made sense to the early explorers that there wouldn't be some way to get through to the Arctic Ocean, starting west of Greenland. They were sure there was a passage if it was there all the time, and it wasn't worth finding.

Where It All Began

Cong. Dies, Mrs. Roosevelt Exchange Letters

A sharp exchange of letters and statements relative to congressional investigation of Communist activities in the government 12 years ago has developed between Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Rep. Martin Dies of Texas, Democrat, who was chairman of the House Committee on Un-American activities from 1938 to 1945.

Mr. Dies, in a copyrighted interview in U. S. News & World Report a fortnight ago, charged that the Roosevelt adinistration fought his investigation of Communists and even tried to persecute him personally. He said the late President Roosevelt told him it would hurt the Democratic party by alienating "liberal" groups.

Consequently, Mrs. Roosevelt wrote Mr. Dies under date of Aug. 17, 1954.

"I am quite sure that my husband never said, 'It would be bad for the Democratic party to alienate elements friendly to Communism'."

Mr. Dies replied in a letter to Mrs. Roosevelt dated Aug. 19:

"I reported my conversation with President Roosevelt during his lifetime, and what I stated in my interview is merely a repetition of what I have been saying for many years. A more detailed account of what I told the President and what he told me may be found in the speech which Congressman Velde inserted (Sept. 22, 1950) in the Congressional Record."

To this Mrs. Roosevelt, on Aug. 23, 1954, answered:

"My husband is dead and I can't speak for him but I can easily see how he might, in the light of the day in which you were speaking, have said what you say he said, and without meaning what you now imply he meant.

"It is true there was no hysteria in those days, and he may have felt there were a great many liberals who were in sympathy with certain Communist doctrines that he and many others might not have wanted to antagonize. My husband knew what the trends were and the differences between what was developing in the Communist party then and some of the writings and tenets of the Communist party in the past.

"You seem to forget the change brought about under Lenin and Stalin and the change in attitude that has occurred here in consequence."

REP. DIES replied as follows:

"I regard the last letter of Mrs. Roosevelt as a historic document. It shows the thinking and attitude of the Roosevelts with reference to Communists and Russia. It was this attitude that was responsible for the tragic blunders at the Yalta and Potsdam conferences which brought about the emergence of Russia from a third-rate power to the status of a world menace. I think Mrs. Roosevelt's letter needs no reply since it speaks for itself."

Mr. Dies called attention also to his earlier statement; namely, that he submitted in 1941 to the Roosevelt administration a list of about 2,000 Communists on the federal payroll, including Agler Hiss, Harry Dexter White, Harold Glasser and others, and asked that they be discharged but that the 2,000 remained for "a little more than a decade before they finally were discharged."

In another phase of the Roosevelt-Dies controversy, the Texas congressman, in his magazine interview, said that Mrs. Roosevelt had intervened with him to get a "clean bill of health" from the committee for Joseph Lash of the American Youth Congress although he said she had told him that Mr. Lash had admitted to her having been a Communist. Mrs. Roosevelt, noting the quotation in one of these dispatches, said in her Aug. 17 letter to Mr. Dies:

"I never admitted to you, because I could not have, since Mr. Joseph Lash never admitted to me that he had been a Communist. I knew that in the Youth Organizations he had been close to many Communists and he had helped me greatly to learn about Communist lines of thought, and that I might have told you, but Mr. Lash was never a member of the Communist party."

MRS. ROOSEVELT also declared that so far as she knew, no White House influence — as Mr. Dies said he was advised by a local draft board — was used to hold up the drafting of Mr. Lash and that she felt he had a right to try to get a commission in the Navy if he could and that this possibly accounted for any delay by the draft board.

Mr. Dies, in his Aug. 19 letter to Mrs. Roosevelt, replied that "it was not necessary for Joseph Lash to be a card-holding member of the Communist party of the United States to be a Communist."

The Texas congressman then referred to testimony at a House Committee hearing on Jan. 21, 1942. Mr. Lash was asked: "Were you ever, in any circles of the Young Communist League, or in any circles of the Young Communist party, or otherwise treated in a manner in which they might presumably treat persons who were backing them and taking their instructions, but who, for strategic reasons, were not issued cards of membership?" To this question, Lash replied under oath:

"I worked very closely with them but I have always preserved my independence of judgment."

AT THE SAME hearing that day, Mr. Lash made it clear that he had renounced his earlier beliefs, as is shown in the following exchange:

"Chairman Dies: You are definitely convinced that you were wrong in being closely associated with the Communists during that period?

"Mr. Lash: Yes sir.

"The Chairman: There is no question in your mind but that was an error?

"Mr. Lash: Yes Sir."

Mrs. Roosevelt, accodring to a letter which Mr. Dies has also made public, wrote to the House chairman two days after that hearing and said she was "convinced of his (Mr. Lash's) sincerity and I feel that continuing to pillory him in the public press has a bad effect upon the morale of our young people as a whole."

So the so-called "methods" of congressional investigating committees and the charges and counter charges today are not far different from what they were a little more than a decade ago when the Democratic party was in control of Congress.

'My Worthy Opponent'

By TRUMAN TWILL

One of these days the political campaigners will get to going strong with an eye on election day in November — and some of us dread it. We dread the mud-sling, back-biting and innuendo-tossing.

It's strange that anything which comes in for as much harsh criticism as politics keeps on being the same. It must mean that its critics do not know what they are talking about, or politicians would pay attention. They must get results doing things their way, or they'd reform.

They learn at their mothers' knees what non-politicians never know and do not want to learn—that the dumbest mistake a vote-getter can make is to forget the nature of the people whose votes he is trying to get.

That is why it is only some of us—not most of us—who dread what happens when political campaigners get to going strong. We forget we are in a small minority and therefore are not to be taken seriously. Our votes are peanuts.

The votes the politicians are really trying to get are in the possession of people who will give them up cheerfully only when convinced they have a chance to vote against somebody or something they dislike. They are the protest voters.

They are negationists. It is their cherished privilege as Americans to vote no—a privilege never appreciated fully until Hitler and Stalin rigged up those fake elections in which everybody had to vote yes.

The negationists do not profess to know how the United States should be run. But they are certain in their minds that the way it is being run at any given moment is a crime and a caution and should be given a thumping vote of censure.

Since they cannot be counted on to reach their maximum efficiency unless stirred to the roots of their deepest resentments, politicians seeking their votes must dig up everything that tends to confirm their deepest, darkest misgivings about the fellows on the other side of the ticket. While this becomes a kind of game for the politicians, themselves—a game with no holds barred—it is deadly serious business for voters. They make the rules.

Under no circumstances must politicians say anything good about their opponents. This would be in violation of the basic principles of campaigning. Voters expect that the party of the opposition is composed at best of blundering idiots being grievously misled by sinister opportunists and at worst of thieving scoundrels trying to set up a plunderbund. "My worthy opponent" must be a skunk or it is no contest.

Organized chicanery must lurk in the background at all times. Ruthless dispoilers of the fairest flowers of civilization must lurk in the shrubbery, with their beady eyes darting hungrily over the fair form of Liberty.

The record must be looked at closely and what is found there must be all bad. It must be revealed that the worthy opponent is only the local mouthpiece for some distant gang of conspirators, preferably of foreign origin. Lie detector tests must be called for at regular intervals to keep alive the impression of falsehood. Large sums of money must allegedly be unaccounted for, to cast doubt in the quarters where it will do the most damage.

One way and another, it must be shown that the opponent and his gang are not to be trusted, whether or not the assailant and his gang are to be trusted is always glibly glossed over in the hurly-burly of the campaign.

Some of us dread it. Fortunately, we are few in number. America was started and has been maintained by throwing rascals out, not by throwing rascals in.

Days Grow Shorter

Hamiltonians, Jeffersonians Still Fight

By David Barnett

The Hamiltonians and Jeffersonians are at it again.

Almost 170 years ago, when the framework for the United States government was being erected, the great governmental tussel was between the followers of Alexander Hamilton and those of Thomas Jefferson.

Generally, the dispute was over how much power should be placed in the hands of the central government. Hamilton argued for more federal control; Jefferson for less.

The argument has been going on ever since, but now a government commission has to come up with some kind of answer. It is having a tough time, though.

The government group is the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, established July 10, 1953, to work out a blueprint for a balance among federal, state and local governmental units.

During its first year, the commission produced no completed reports and one political storm. Its chairman, Dr. Clarence Manion, of the University of Notre Dame, was replaced by Meyer Kestnbaum, a Chicago manufacturer.

The commission has obtained a one - year extension. Originally, it was scheduled to complete its work last March 1.

Eight study committees utilizing non - commission experts are now working. They cover these fields: Highways, taxes, local government, welfare, education, agriculture, public health, and natural resources.

But decisions on federal activities in these fields will have to be based on the commission's resolution of the conflict between the Hamiltonians and the Jeffersonians.

-:-

AS A MEMBER of the commission, Rep. Harold C. Ostertag (R., N.Y.), put it:

"The Hamiltonians and Jeffersonians are still with us, strangely assorted, however, as to party labels. The task of the commission is to find the middle ground. It is no small task."

To help the group, staff working papers have been developed for staff guidance that trace the conflict and present the arguments for both sides.

According to Rep. Osterag, the papers point out that much of the centralization in our government is the result of four forces: War, economic depression, the growth of the social services, and the revolution in transport in industry.

"To put it another way," he says, "it is the result of power politics, depression politics, welfare politics, and the internal combustion engine."

The papers demonstrate, the New Yorker states, "That we now have a central government of virtually unlimited powers, and these powers have been sustained by the Supreme Court, generally under the general welfare and commerce clauses of the Constitution."

According to the congressman, this is the case made in the staff papers for decentralization:

"The psychological need for intimacy and mastery as a force making for decentralization in the United States is reinforced by men's normal indoctrination from youth up in the virtues of local responsibility and control . . .

"That doctrine has its roots in individualism. American individualism is not simply or primarily economic; it is the Christian's claim to spiritual freedom, his duty to rise above earthly concerns and his right to limit earthly powers; combined with the Jacksonian frontiersman's sense of the adequacy to master his environment and make and enforce all needed laws.

"It is opposed to rule by experts, and it strives to keep man emancipated from those webs of organization which it is felt always destroy democracy in creating hierarchy; and directness by imposing distance."

ON THE OTHER SIDE:

"The critic of these arguments is apt to question both the utility and the reality of the claimed virtues of local interest and participation. The affairs that really affect men's lives are conducted on a national, or even a world stage; and preoccupation with lesser affairs is a distracting luxury we cannot afford, or an attempt to avoid responsibility and seek escapes by absorption in the trivial and ignoring the strenuous.

"Moreover (the critic somewhat cynically observed) local affairs rarely have produced breadth of vision, and the realities of state and local politics are less than lovely, however supposdly vital the issues.

"Central government has grown large because other governments were small in almost every respect; and to give them broader functions would merely increase inefficiency and meanness."

The path the commission picks as the true one between these conflicting views may have its first practical application in the field of education.

Localities have put considerable pressure on congress for federal aid to education. Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in President Eisenhower's cabinet, successfully opposed any such grant at the recently adjourned session of Congress. She asked for time to study the matter.

Kestnbaum recently told a congressional committee that Mrs. Hobby had indicated she would like to defer her major recommendations in this field until the report of the commission had been made.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

A superb dress for the pioneer bride was a common American cotton check costing one dollar a yard. Five yards was deemed on ample pattern. One pot, kettle and frying pan were the only articles considered indispensable in setting up the home. The cabins were furnished simply. The bedstead was homemade and often consisted of forked sticks driven into the ground, with cross poles to support the clapboards or cords. Some of the wealthiest families had split bottom chairs. The woods furnished an abundance of fancy meats and corn pone took the place of pies, cakes and other delicacies.

Senator Mundt expresses disappointment that Ray Jenkins' summary of the Army-McCarthy thing is still too long. It might be a good idea to call in one of those condensation experts from the Reader's Digest, who could not only boil it down but sell it to his own magazine as "the most unforgettable character I ever met."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Real News Newsreel

The International Amateur Athletic Union, convening in Switzerland, has voted to admit Red China. This assures a place for Mao Tse-tung in the 100-yard free-style excoriation events and qualifies him for hurling the 56-pound slur. Chou En-lai has qualified, as we understand it, for the "dinner-tossing open" and the underwater swim, using the new lotus-root stroke. Dan Ferris, American delegate, says, "No valid reason was given for not admitting Red China." (Hadn't you heard about Korea and the use of gun-butts on fallen adversaries?) "What does this new bill against the Commies in America mean?" ask many people. In plain language it means that Uncle Sam is declassified as a "schmoe" and a "sucker," moving him up into the ranks of a smart fellow who knows what's going on. And it notifies the back-stabbers that they are no longer on his guest list.

Officers Called For Colonel's Court Martial

FT. SHERIDAN, Ill. (AP)—A U S Army officer testified today that Lt. Col. Harry Fleming advised his fellow prisoners in a North Korean POW camp not to resist the Communists openly because it might result in their being punished

Fleming's military trial on charges he collaborated with the Communists and committed acts detrimental to his fellow prisoners during 34 months as a prisoner of the Communists entered its second day.

1st Lt Louis Wilson of Shreveport, La, said under cross examination that Fleming at one time was elected compound leader of the POW's in his camp because he "seemed to get along ok with Kim," the Communist camp commander.

Air Force Major David F MacGhee of Falls Church, Va, another witness called back today for cross-examination, said the number of American casualties in prison camps and their "weakness of moral fiber" would not have been so prevalent "if our leadership had been stronger"

He said that in the long run prisoners who acted "like loyal Americans were treated every bit as well as the camp informers, stool pigeons or those who cooperated" with prison officials.

Judge Decides Immunity Not Promised GI

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The trial judge ruled today that Cpl. Claude Batchelor was not promised immunity by the U. S. Army if he would return to the Allied side.

On the basis of this ruling, Lt. Col. Donald L. Manes Jr., law officer, or "judge" in the court-martial of Batchelor, turned down a defense motion that all charges against Batchelor be dropped.

Batchelor is charged with collaborating with the enemy and telling on his buddies while he was a prisoner of war in Korea. He at first chose to stay with the Reds but changed his mind.

His attorneys had contended that the Army promised immunity from prosecution to the corporal while he was in Indian custody in the Panmunjom neutral zone if he would return to the Allied side.

Batchelor, came home Jan. 1. His trial opened at Fort Sam Houston here yesterday.

Batchelor, captured by the Communists in Korea, was one of an original group of 23 Americans who decided not to come back. While in Indian custody at Panmumjom, Korea, last Jan. 1, he changed his mind and returned to the Allied side.

Lt. Col. Kerlin J. Bragdon, defense attorney, said the Army made a loud-speaker broadcast at Panmumjom Dec. 22 to persuade Batchelor and other unrepatriated Americans they would not be punished if they returned.

To this contention, Bragdon pegged his formal motion for dismissal of all charges.

Lt. Col. Francis R. Boyles, the trial counsel or prosecutor, argued that no immunity was promised.

Batchelor's mother was in the small, crowded courtroom as the trial opened. Batchelor, 22, of Kermit, Tex., is charged with collaborating with the enemy and with informing on his fellow prisoners.

He has been a prisoner of the Army since he was arrested March 5, shortly after returning to the United States.

Former Marion Couple To Observe Anniversary

A former Marion couple, Mayor and Mrs. Charles Rinehart of Bethesda, O., will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Friday, Sept. 3. In observance of the event, open house will be held at the Epworth Park Hotel with the celebrants receiving guests between the hours of 6 and 10:30 in the evening.

The bride of 50 years ago was Miss Bertha Sykes, a native of Clarington. Her marriage to Mr. Rinehart, a native of Newark, was on Sept. 3, 1904, with Rev. Harry H. Patterson officiating.

The first 24 years of their married life was spent in Marion. Since leaving this city they have lived in Bethesda. Until his retirement three years ago, Mr. Rinehart was engaged in the cigar manufacuring business. He was elected mayor of Bethesda in 1953. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rinehart are members of the Methodist Church.

The celebrants have two children, Mrs. J. V. Dodd of Fayette, O., and Harry H. Rinehart of Plainsfield, N. J. They also have six grandchildren, Burleigh Rinehart of Columbus, Delonna and Lawrence Rinehart of Plainsfield, N. J., Dottie, Charles Vernon and Bette Jean Dodd of Fayette, and three great grandchildren, Bradley, Rickey and Kerry Rinehart, all of Columbus.

Ellwood S. Parrott Appointed County Agriculture Agent

Ellwood S. Parrott will succeed Arthur H. Smith as Marion County Extension Agent, Director of Extension W. W. Wood of Columbus announced today.

Associate agent here since February, 1952, Parrott was recommended for the position by unanimous vote of the county Extension Advisory Committee. His appointment will become effective Sept. 15.

A native of Union County, Prarott taught vocational agriculture at Gettysburg in Darke County and at McCutchenville in Wyandot County for two years. Before taking the associate's post here, he farmed for two years with his father, J. Ray Parrot, in Hardin County.

Parrott, 28, graduated from Radnor High School where he was awarded the State Farmer degree. He received a BS degree in agricultural education at Ohio State University in 1947.

Parrott and his wife Muriel have three children, Rex, 6; Debra, 2; and Roger, 1. Mrs. Parrott formerly taught home economics at Yellow Springs and Gettysburgh schools.

Smith, agent here for 12 years, resigned recently to accept a position in the radio section of the Extension Service in Columbus.

Damage Suit Filed In Traffic Accident

A $25,000 damage suit resulting from a July 6 traffic accident in the county was filed Monday in Common Pleas Court by Ronald H. Wilson of near Marion. Named defendant was William M. Fabian of near Marion.

In his petition, Wilson said he was driving east on County Road 138 about half a mile east of Route 23 and Fabian was west-bound at the time of the collision. He was hospitalized for three days following the accident and was treated for contusions to his left leg, and abrasions of the left elbow and chest, the plaintiff claims.

Representing Wilson is the law firm of Moore and Myers.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Jones of 204 S. Greenwood St. are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Bonnie Marilyn, to Robert Edwin Wilber of Dorset, Mass. He is the son of Mrs. Mary Downs of 106 St. Stephen St., Boston.

The wedding took place Aug. 6 in Angola, Ind.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilber were students at Bowling Green State University. Mr. Wilber was graduated Aug. 27 from the college of business administration there after which the couple left for a trip through the East and to Boston where they will make their home.

Mr. Wilber is employed with the firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co., public accountants, of Boston.

One of the purest examples of early brick colonial architecture is the Old Colony House at Newport, R. I.

Marionite One of Nation's Last Horse Auctioneers

Lew Wickersham Makes Specialty of Selling Trotters, Pacers

The auction is on!

"Now here's a fine horse and what would you give for him . . . how many dollars am I bid . . . ?"

Once a familiar chant at hundreds of horse auctions throughout the land, these and similar words spoken in staccato by the auctioneer are now a less familiar part of the American scene.

With automobiles, trucks, tractors and the like ever crowding dobbin more and more out of the picture, horse sales are fewer and the ranks of the horse auctioneers have dwindled.

—:—

ONLY TWO MEN living east of the Mississippi now specialize in auctioning horses. One of them is a well-known resident of Marion County.

He is Lew Wickersham of near Marion, owner of Wickersham's Racing and Training Stables at the Marion County Fairgrounds and a man who has been interested in horses "ever since I was a little shaver on my dad's farm."

Only other horse auctioneer in this part of the country is George Sweinbroad of Lexington, Ky. who, along with Lew, is well-known in the eastern half of the nation among horse buyers and owners.

While Sweinbroad sells both running and harness race horses, Wickersham prefers to specialize in the "standardbreds." This is the term applied to the blooded trotters and pacers used in harness racing and is similar to the term "thoroughbred" used for blooded running race horses.

Occasionally, he is also called on to conduct a farm auction—selling everything from horses to chinaware. "I'm never too busy to talk to anyone about holding an auction sale," he says.

SINCE FIRST starting to auction horses professionally 20 years ago with Clunk and Brooks Horse Auction at Bucyrus, he has watched rapid decline both in the number of horse auctions and the number and type of horses sold.

Unlike his early days in the business, when as many as 800 horses of all types would be auctioned off in six or seven hours, Lew now spends eight hours to sell 100 to 125 horses. He credits this to the lack of knowledge of the worth of "horseflesh" by both the buyers and the sellers.

In those early days every buyer and seller knew exactly what every horse was worth, he recalls. "Many's the time I've sold a horse after only three bids—and at the price which was right," he says.

Now, with many newcomers in the horse buying business, who are not familiar with the breeding of each horse, the bidding goes much slower while the prospective buyers consider each bid carefully, Lew notes.

Going back to the horse auction operated by Harvey Clunk and Harold Brooks, he points out that "it got to be the biggest auction this side of the Mississippi." The specialties at these sales were draft and saddle horses.

ONE OF THE FEW remaining horse auctioneers in eastern United States, Lew Wickersham of near Marion, shows how he checks over some fine points on a horse about to be auctioned off. Including some of the better qualities of the horse in his "chant" helps bring a better price from the bidders. Lew specializes in sales of "standardbred" horses of the type shown here. These are the trotters and pacers used for harness racing.

About a dozen years ago, sales of these types of horses began to slow down and about seven years ago Lew decided to specialize in sales of "standardbreds."

His first sale of this type was at Indianapolis where he worked for Sep Palin, well-known sulky driver and race horse owner and trader. He is now associated with the Blooded Horse Sale Co.

He has remained in this line of work almost continuously since, except for a time when he tried operating a livery stable and a cattle farm.

Along with his auctioneering, Lew also works as a harness race driver and has driven at county and state fairs in Ohio and neighboring states and at Saratoga Springs and Hilliards. Sometimes he drives his own horses, other times he drives for other owners.

While he keeps only a small stable of his own horses, he proudly points out that he owned and drove "the greatest pacer ever to enter a harness race in Ohio," a horse by the name of Joanis. He also is the owner of "the only palomino mules in captivity." Named Jack and Jill, the mules are almost of identical color and build. Their color is best described as a dark yellow sprinkled with white, giving the overall effect of the color of straw.

While the horse auctioneering business was on the decline a few years ago, Lew feels it is on the upgrade now and that more and more interest is developing in standardbred horses and harness racing events. He also points out that a lot of younger fellows are now trying to break into the horse auctioneering business which indicates a rising interest in both the standardbred and thoroughbred horses.

"I'm not worried about the future," Wickersham says. "The horse auctioneering business is the best it's been for years and it's looking better all the time."

Stone Relics Tell Story Of Ancient Civilization

ELIZABETH, N. J. (UP)—The history of early civilization, preserved in stone, is located in Herbert Kraft's attic.

Kraft, 36, boasts a collection of more than 5,000 stones and relics of ancient civilizations. He started the collection at the age of nine with discovery of two Indian arrowheads.

As a boy, he traded comic books for additional arrowheads. Now he has collectors' items from every continent, claiming one of the largest private collections of Egyptian relics in this area. Other items are from Palestine, Greece, Crete and Mongolia.

In his American Indian collection, he has pieces from most of the 48 states, along with Indian ceremonial pieces and the only monolithic ax known.

One of the skulls in his collection is believed to be that of a 16-year-old Indian boy. The remains of an arrow are wedged in the jaw bone.

Kraft, employe of the Singer Manufacturing Co., also found time to collect relics of such European cultures as the Swiss Lake dwellers, the New and Old Stone Age, and Bronze and Iron Ages and the early cave man.

Wives Live Longer

SCHENECTDAY, N. Y. (UP)—Chances are good these days that your wife will live longer than you. Medical science says so.

The latest figures show that the average length of life in the United States has reached a record high of 68.5 years—a gain of four years in the past decade.

The average lifetime expectancy of women at birth is now 71.8 years; for men, 65.9 years.

MANY CROSSINGS

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP) — Mr. and Mrs. James Watmough of Providence do their commuting on a big scale. Native Britons, they have made 25 trans-Atlantic crossings.

Pecan Given Important Role in Aviation World

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP) — A little known fact about the manufacture of airplanes is that pecan nuts are used in their production.

General Electric scientists say the National Pecan Shellers and Processors Association informs them that both pecan and walnut shells are used for blast cleaning of metals, other than iron, where it is important not to damage surfaces.

Such application is used on cleaning carbon, scale and other matter from parts of airplane engines, delicate moulds and other fitted metal products.
